

HAS MANILA CORKED UP

Dewey Sends Word He Maintains Strict Blockade.

SURRENDER LIKELY SOON.

The Admiral Says the Spaniards' Provisions Are Getting Scarce.

POPULACE IS EATING HORSEFLESH

This Statement Made on Information Brought to Hongkong by the United States Dispatch Boat Hugh McCulloch, Which Carried Admiral Dewey's Dispatch—Officials at Washington Making Haste to Rush Troops to the Support of Dewey—Charleston About to Sail.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—The following dispatch has been received by the navy department from Admiral Dewey: "CAVITE, May 13, HONGKONG, May 15.—Maintaining strict blockade. Reason to believe that the rebels are hemming in the city by land, but have made no demonstration.

"Scarcity provisions in Manila. Probable that the Spanish governor will be obliged to surrender soon. Can take Manila at any moment. Climate hot and moist. On May 12 captured gunboat Callao, attempting to run blockade. Have plenty of coal. One British, one French, two German and one Japanese vessels here observing. "DEWEY."

The officials are making all possible haste to rush troops to supplement Admiral Dewey's forces, so that if the Spanish governor does surrender the former will not be dependent upon the small number of marines which he can rely upon from his ships, but will have the assistance of soldiers in holding his position and maintaining order. It is confidently hoped here that the City of Peking, chartered as a transport vessel, will be able to clear from San Francisco in a very short time, to be followed in rapid succession by the other three ships engaged for a similar purpose.

The Peking can carry 1,000 men, which, with the marines aboard the Charleston just about to sail, will be of considerable assistance to the admiral, but far from the number which he will need. The total number of men to be sent will aggregate probably 12,000, as Major General Wesley Merritt, who is to command the expedition and subsequently to be made military governor, regards that as the least which can maintain order in a city like Manila made up of many discordant elements.

Reports received indicate that 11,900 men selected for the expedition from the volunteer forces in the country west of the Mississippi river will be prepared to move in a few days. Adjutant General Corbin is of the opinion that in the neighborhood of 11,000 of these will finally qualify for the expedition. It is the purpose now to send a force of 15,000 to the islands. In order to make up the requisite number, it is the intention of the army officials to send as a part of the expedition at least three regiments of seasoned regular troops. General Corbin said that the regular troops probably would be sent from the forces encamped at Tampa, Fla., as they are the most available now at the disposal of the department.

It is not regarded as desirable to remove such regular troops as have been left in the Indian country. The fear is entertained that if those troops should be sent away from their present posts some of the unruly Indians might take advantage of their absence to commit outrages and depredations upon the white settlements. For that reason the regular troops selected for the Philippine expedition will be taken from the forces mobilized on the Atlantic coast.

It was announced definitely that the transport ship City of Peking, now at San Francisco, would sail for Manila maybe today with about a regiment and a half of the volunteers already selected for the expedition. Other forces destined for Manila will be hurried to San Francisco as rapidly as possible and will be sent to the support of Admiral Dewey as soon as they can be thoroughly equipped.

HONGKONG, May 16.—The United States dispatch boat Hugh McCulloch has arrived here from Manila with dispatches for the United States government. She reports that the Spanish gunboat Callao, from the Caroline islands, recently entered the port of Manila, being ignorant of the outbreak of hostilities between Spain and the United States. An American warship fired across her bows and signaled her a demand for surrender. The demand being disregarded, the American ships fired direct at the Spanish gunboat and the latter surrendered.

The populace of Manila is reduced to eating horse flesh, and the prospect of relief seems far distant.

The Hugh McCulloch also reports that the Philippine insurgents applied to Rear Admiral Dewey for his approval of an attack by them upon the city. The admiral, it appears, approved of the plan, provided no excesses were committed.

ted. The insurgents then pleaded that they had no arms with the exception of machetes, to which the admiral replied: "Help yourselves at the Cavite arsenal."

The city of Manila, however, has not yet been attacked. About 5,000 Spanish troops are guarding the road leading from Cavite to Manila.

THE CRUISER YALE SAILS.

ST. THOMAS, West Indies, May 16.—The United States auxiliary cruiser Yale, upon receipt of orders from the department and information concerning Spanish vessels being at Martinique, cleared from St. Thomas and sailed west.

Reported Quiet in Italy.

LONDON, May 16.—According to the dispatches from various parts of Italy, Rome, Milan and the other large towns continue quiet, but it is understood that the state of siege will be maintained until parliament has adopted the necessary repressive measures.

VOLUNTEERS WILL BE RAPIDLY CONCENTRATED.

Subsistence Will Be Easier and Then They Must Be Properly Equipped and Drilled.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—After going over the situation with General Miles, Adjutant General Corbin and the heads of the supply departments, the secretary of war made an order for the assignment of volunteer troops now being mustered into the service of the United States and designated points where they will assemble with the least possible delay. This step was rendered necessary from the fact that the state authorities are very fast relinquishing control of troops that are passing over the muster line under the authority of the general government. It became necessary to assemble those troops at once in order to meet the problem of their subsistence, no less than that of their equipment in the way of arms, clothing, camp and garrison equipage, to say nothing of the superior advantage of drill and instruction under trained officers.

The number mustered in by Saturday night was about 65,000.

Among those ordered to Chickamauga are:

Maryland, one regiment infantry. Ohio, four regiments infantry, four batteries light artillery, eight troops cavalry.

Pennsylvania, seven regiments infantry, three batteries light artillery. West Virginia, one regiment infantry. Troops from other states have been

ADJUTANT GENERAL CORBIN.

THE FIGHT AT CIENFUEGOS.

Mr. Gladstone's Condition.

HAWARDEN, May 16.—The condition of Mr. Gladstone yesterday was about the same as Saturday at this time.

STATE TROOPS ARRIVED

Some of the Ohio Soldier Boys at Chickamauga.

CAVALRY ARRIVED FIRST.

The First Was the Advance Guard of the Volunteers.

THE FIRST INFANTRY CAME LATER.

Cavalry Boys, Most of Them, Were Without Uniforms and Did Not Present a Very Soldierly Appearance—The Infantry Was Fully Uniformed and Armed With Winchester Rifles—All Arrived in Good Condition—The Fourth Regiment Given an Ovation on Leaving.

CHICKAMAUGA NATIONAL PARK, Ga., May 16.—The First Ohio cavalry, the advance guard of the volunteer army ordered by the war department to rendezvous at Camp Thomas, arrived Sunday, in two sections of 16 cars each, over the Cincinnati Southern railroad. The regiment is composed of eight troops, 600 officers and men. The regiment is in command of Lieutenant Colonel W. M. Day. The regiment did not bring horses, and these are to be supplied here by the government. Only one troop was supplied with arms.

Most of the men were without uniforms and they did not therefore present a very formidable military appearance. They are a gallant set, however, and their friends promise they will give a good account of themselves when they have an opportunity. The regiment was immediately assigned camp grounds on the east side of the Lafayette road. They were supplied with tents by Quartermaster Lee from the recent consignment sent here for the volunteer army.

Very few uniforms have been received at the quartermaster's department here, but an order for 25,000 has been sent in and will be filled just as rapidly as possible. In the meantime the volunteer boys will have to get along with their old ones as best as they can until this order has been filled.

Last night at 8:15 o'clock the First Ohio infantry, from Cincinnati, 11 companies, 800 officers and men, arrived in Chattanooga in two sections of 20 cars each, over the Cincinnati Southern railroad. This regiment was in rather striking contrast to the cavalry regiment, being fully uniformed and armed with Winchester rifles. All arrived in good condition and good spirits. They were brought immediately to this point and reported to General Brooks. The regiment is in command of Colonel T. H. Milliken.

COLUMBUS, May 16.—Fifty thousand people gathered along the line of march from Camp Bushnell to the Union station Sunday to bid the boys of the Fourth O. V. I. goodbye before leaving for Chickamauga. All the bells of the city rang when the news was signalled from the camp that the regiment was on the move, and half the population turned out to bid them farewell. The cannon in the statehouse yard boomed, while the music of the bands, thousands of waving flags and the enthusiastic cheers of the mass of people along the line of march made the scene one of the most inspiring nature. Four companies of the regiment were made up exclusively of colonels and soldiers, and the leavetaking had many effecting incidents.

In spite of the fact that the departure took place on Sunday Governor Bushnell and the state officers gathered in front of the marching column on the north side of the state house and waived them a goodbye, the soldiers cheering enthusiastically when they saw the governor. The regiment left over the Pennsylvania road at 3 o'clock, the Union station being so crowded with the friends of the departing troops that the train could hardly get out of the depot with safety to the overwhelming crowd.

In spite of the departure of two regiments of infantry and eight troops of cavalry from Camp Bushnell the last two days, there was an immense crowd of excursionists at the rendezvous. The force there has been reduced from over 9,000 to about 5,500 men. Special trains from all parts of the state came to Columbus, loaded to the trucks with people, and they arrived over the camp. The day was given over to the entertainment of the guests and preparations for the departure of the Fourth regiment.

The First regiment of infantry left Sunday night for Chickamauga and the streets were packed with people along the line of march, in spite of the pouring rain that prevailed. General Axline received a telegram announcing the safe arrival of the cavalry that left for the south Saturday at noon, at Chickamauga camp. Two more regiments will leave Camp Bushnell within the next few days, one, the Eighth, going to Washington, the other to Chickamauga. The remaining four will constitute the reserve force, not to be used unless another call should come from Washington.

SPANISH GOVERNMENT STILL FULL OF FIGHT.

Officially Declared That the New Ministry Will Prosecute the War to the Utmost.

MADRID, May 16.—It is officially declared that the new ministry, when formed, will continue to prosecute the war to the utmost.

It is now believed that only Admiral Bermejo, minister of marine, and Count Xiquena, minister of public works, will quit the cabinet, although it was reported all had resigned.

LONDON, May 16.—A dispatch to The Times from Madrid confirms the official denial at the Spanish capital that the cabinet changes are connected with a peace movement. The Times correspondent says:

The conclusion to be drawn from the reorganization that they are seeking a peaceable solution of the question has for the moment been abandoned and the war will be prosecuted vigorously.

"Senor Sagasta, though weak in health, remains president of the council of ministers.

Four ministers, Senors Gullon, Bermejo, Moret and Niquera, will retire, partly for personal reasons and partly because of differences on important policies. Senor Sagasta will choose the strongest Liberals he can find, but several of the strongest, notably Senor Gamazo, have intimated that they will not take office at present.

"It is hoped and expected that General Correa, 'minister of war,' valuable qualifications for his post, will remain."

TO EXCHANGE PRISONERS.

A Steamer Leaves Key West to Arrange With the Spanish.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—The navy department announces that the Uncas left Key West shortly before midnight Saturday night with instructions to arrange, under a flag of truce, for an exchange of prisoners between the Spanish and the Americans.

HAVANA, May 16.—The Spaniards recently captured two Americans, both of whom claim to be newspaper correspondents and one of whom says he is an electrical engineer. They were taken at Salado. One carried a camera, wore a small five pointed star and had a quantity of mail matter on his person.

When captured they threw themselves upon Spanish generosity and shouted "Viva Espana." It is reported that a third member of the party made his escape by swimming.

The two whom were captured arrived here and were taken to Caballoria wharf and from there were carried to Cabanas fortress.

At 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon a newspaper dispatchboat was seen approaching the entrance of the harbor bearing a flag of truce. Mr. Marengo, the chief of staff on the naval station, went to meet the boat in a launch. The American vessel lowered a small boat, with two officers, who informed Mr. Marengo was to make an exchange of prisoners and get the newspaper men's release.

They then returned to lay the matter before Governor General Blanco, after which the launch went out again, this time carrying also Colonel Gelpi of the general staff, and Mr. Gollan, the British consul general. A conference was then held on board the Spanish launch.

PENNSYLVANIA TROOPS.

Three Regiments Have Passed Through Pittsburgh Enroute South.

PITTSBURG, May 16.—Trains bearing Pennsylvania volunteers to Chickamauga passed through here today.

The Fourth regiment passed through here Sunday.

The Sixteenth went through early this morning and the Third some hours later.

MOUNT GRETN, Pa., May 16.—Two regiments of Pennsylvania volunteers pulled out from Camp Hastings Sunday. The first to go was the Fourth, commanded by Colonel Case, which moved at daylight, after reveille.

Two trains were made to take Colonel Hulings' sixteenth regiment of Oil City, and, during the afternoon, the two battalions of this regiment left on two trains amid the cheers of the remaining commands. Both regiments were glad to get away, as they have been without canvas since Thursday night.

Quay Stands by Stone.

PHILADELPHIA, May 16.—A dispatch from Avalon, N. J., where Senator Quay is spending a few days at State Senator Beckers cottage, says that after a conference with State Chairman Elkins, Senator Durham and Allen B. Rorke the senator pledged himself anew to the candidacy of William A. Stone for governor.

Violinist Remenyi Dead.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 16.—Edouard Remenyi, the Hungarian violinist, dropped dead at the Orpheum theater while performing Sunday afternoon.

Osman Digna Wounded.

LONDON, May 16.—A dispatch to The Daily News from Cairo says that a body of friendly natives have had an encounter with a force of Dervishes under Osman Digna near Godoref. Digna was wounded, but escaped.

SAMPSON'S FLEET SIGHTED

Reported to Have Passed Cape Haitien, Haiti, Sunday.

ITS COURSE IS UNCERTAIN.

May Have Turned Southward to Meet the Spanish Fleet.

MAY FIRST GO TO KEY WEST.

The Spanish Fleet Was Still at Curacao, Near the Coast of Venezuela, Sunday. Some of the Vessels Were Taking on Coal, Medicines and Provisions—Others Outside Waiting—Apparent at Key West That an Important Strategic Movement is on Foot.

CAPE HAITIEN, Republic of Haiti, May 16.—The United States torpedo-boat Porter and the storeship Supply, which have been here waiting orders, have sailed to join Admiral Sampson's squadron.

The squadron passed Cape Haitian, Sunday. It is uncertain whether it will turn southward to meet the Spanish fleet or go first to Key West.

CURACAO, May 16.—The Spanish cruisers Maria Teresa, Vizcaya, Almirante Oquendo and Cristobal Colon and torpedo-boat destroyers Pluton and Terror, which arrived off the harbor Saturday morning, were still here Sunday.

Only the Maria Teresa and the Vizcaya were admitted to the port. They bought coal, provisions and medicines. The other warships were outside waiting.

KEY WETS, May 16.—It is apparent that an important strategic movement is being planned. Commodore Watson arrived on the gunboat Dolphin from the blockading fleet off Havana. Orders came thick and fast from Washington, and the naval station authorities were instructed to make quick preparations to coal the big ships. It is thought that there will be no occasion to begin coaling before tomorrow or Wednesday.

The ships already in the harbor have been ordered to get up steam without delay, but the officers say they are ignorant of what this may indicate. The announcement from the north of the coming of the flying squadron strengthens the theory held here that a united movement of some kind is contemplated. The chief factor in the situation is the whereabouts of the Spanish fleet, understood to be off the Venezuelan coast. It is conceded by naval men that were Corvera's squadron to meet the detached blockading squadron off Cuba while Sampson's ships were coaling here, a disastrous blow might be inflicted and it is believed the plan now under consideration is to obviate any such possibility.

Extraordinary precautions are being taken for the protection of Key West harbor, although the rumor lately circulated here that the Spanish fleet is heading this way is scouted by the officials.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—In one respect the maneuver of the Spanish fleet is a relief to naval officers here, as it seems to assure the safety of the battleship Oregon. She is proceeding from the north coast of South America to join Admiral Sampson's fleet, and is somewhere in the neighborhood of Martinique. Had the Spanish squadron remained at that point there would have been serious danger that the Oregon would be intercepted. Now, however, she is well out of the way of the Spaniards, so long as she follows the usual routes.

PUERTO PLATA, Dominican Republic, May 15.—All of the wounded of the United States fleet are doing well.

There has been no firing by our warships since the bombardment of the forts at San Juan de Porto Rico. The cable connecting San Juan de Porto Rico with the outside world has been cut at St. Louis.

The Spanish torpedo gunboat Terror is being docked at Fort de France, island of Martinique.

SCHLEY'S SQUADRON.

The Fleet Stopped In at Charleston on Their Way and Then Sailed For Key West.

CHARLESTON, May 16.—The four vessels of war comprising the major portion of the flying squadron, Commodore Schley, anchored off Charleston bar, nine miles from Charleston city, at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, after having been at sea for three days and with no sign of the Spanish cruisers or torpedo-boats said to be in this locality. The squadron sailed later for Key West.

The Weather.

Partly cloudy, possibly light showers; light easterly winds.

CHICKAMAUGA NATIONAL PARK, Ga., May 16.—The First Ohio cavalry, the advance guard of the volunteer army ordered by the war department to rendezvous at Camp Thomas, arrived Sunday, in two sections of 16 cars each, over the Cincinnati Southern railroad. The regiment is composed of eight troops, 600 officers and men. The regiment is in command of Lieutenant Colonel W. M. Day. The regiment did not bring horses, and these are to be supplied here by the government. Only one troop was supplied with arms.

Last night at 8:15 o'clock the First Ohio infantry, from Cincinnati, 11 companies, 800 officers and men, arrived in Chattanooga in two sections of 20 cars each, over the Cincinnati Southern railroad. This regiment was in rather striking contrast to the cavalry regiment, being fully uniformed and armed with Winchester rifles. All arrived in good condition and good spirits. They were brought immediately to this point and reported to General Brooks. The regiment is in command of Colonel T. H. Milliken.

COLUMBUS, May 16.—Fifty thousand people gathered along the line of march from Camp Bushnell to the Union station Sunday to bid the boys of the Fourth O. V. I. goodbye before leaving for Chickamauga. All the bells of the city rang when the news was signalled from the camp that the regiment was on the move, and half the population turned out to bid them farewell. The regiment left over the Pennsylvania road at 3 o'clock, the Union station being so crowded with the friends of the departing troops that the train could hardly get out of the depot with safety to the overwhelming crowd.

In spite of the departure of two regiments of infantry and eight troops of cavalry from Camp Bushnell the last two days, there was an immense crowd of excursionists at the rendezvous. The force there has been reduced from over 9,000 to about 5,500 men. Special trains from all parts of the state came to Columbus, loaded to the trucks with people, and they swarmed over the camp. The day was given over to the entertainment of the guests and preparations for the departure of the Fourth regiment.

The First regiment of infantry left Sunday night for Chickamauga and the streets were packed with people along the line of march, in spite of the pouring rain that prevailed. General Axline received a telegram announcing the safe arrival of the cavalry that left for the south Saturday at noon, at Chickamauga camp. Two more regiments will leave Camp Bushnell within the next few days, one, the Eighth, going to Washington, the other to Chickamauga. The remaining four will constitute the reserve force, not to be used unless another call should come from Washington.

At 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon a newspaper dispatchboat was seen approaching the entrance of the harbor bearing a flag of truce. Mr. Marengo, the chief of staff on the naval station, went to meet the boat in a launch. The American vessel lowered a small boat, with two officers, who informed Mr. Marengo was to make an exchange of prisoners and get the newspaper men's release.

They then returned to lay the matter before Governor General Blanco, after which the launch went out again, this time carrying also Colonel Gelpi of the general staff, and Mr. Gollan, the British consul general. A conference was then held on board the Spanish launch.

Two trains were made to take Colonel Hulings' sixteenth regiment of Oil City, and, during the afternoon, the two battalions of this regiment left on two trains amid the cheers of the remaining commands. Both regiments were glad to get away, as they have been without canvas since Thursday night.

SAMPSON'S FLEET SIGHTED

Reported to Have Passed Cape Haitien, Haiti, Sunday.

ITS COURSE IS UNCERTAIN.

May Have Turned Southward to Meet the Spanish Fleet.

MAY FIRST GO TO KEY WEST.

The Spanish Fleet Was Still at Curacao, Near the Coast of Venezuela, Sunday. Some of the Vessels Were Taking on Coal, Medicines and Provisions—Others Outside Waiting—Apparent at Key West That an Important Strategic Movement Is on Foot.

CAPE HAITIEN, Republic of Haiti, May 16.—The United States torpedo-boat Porter and the storeship Supply, which have been here waiting orders, have sailed to join Admiral Sampson's squadron.

The squadron passed Cape Haitien, Sunday. It is uncertain whether it will turn southward to meet the Spanish fleet or go first to Key West.

CURACAO, May 16.—The Spanish cruisers Maria Teresa, Vizcaya, Almirante Oquendo and Cristobal Colon and torpedo-boat destroyers Pluton and Terror, which arrived off the harbor Saturday morning, were still here Sunday.

Only the Maria Teresa and the Vizcaya were admitted to the port. They bought coal, provisions and medicines. The other warships were outside waiting.

KEY WEST, May 16.—It is apparent that an important strategic movement is being planned. Commodore Watson arrived on the gunboat Dolphin from the blockading fleet off Havana. Orders came thick and fast from Washington, and the naval station authorities were instructed to make quick preparations to coal the big ships. It is thought that there will be no occasion to begin coaling before tomorrow or Wednesday.

The ships already in the harbor have been ordered to get up steam without delay, but the officers say they are ignorant of what this may indicate. The announcement from the north of the coming of the flying squadron strengthens the theory held here that a united movement of some kind is contemplated. The chief factor in the situation is the whereabouts of the Spanish fleet, understood to be off the Venezuelan coast. It is conceded by naval men that were Corvera's squadron to meet the detached blockading squadron off Cuba while Sampson's ships were coaling here, a disastrous blow might be inflicted and it is believed the plan now under consideration is to obviate any such possibility.

Extraordinary precautions are being taken for the protection of Key West harbor, although the rumor lately circulated here that the Spanish fleet is heading this way is scouted by the officials.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—In one respect the maneuver of the Spanish fleet is a relief to naval officers here, as it seems to assure the safety of the battleship Oregon. She is proceeding from the north coast of South America to join Admiral Sampson's fleet, and is somewhere in the neighborhood of Martinique. Had the Spanish squadron remained at that point there would have been serious danger that the Oregon would be intercepted. Now, however, she is well out of the way of the Spaniards, so long as she follows the usual routes.

PUERTO PLATA, Dominican Republic, May 15.—All of the wounded of the United States fleet are doing well.

There has been no firing by our warships since the bombardment of the forts at San Juan de Porto Rico. The cable connecting San Juan de Porto Rico with the outside world has been cut at St. Louis.

The Spanish torpedo gunboat Terror is being docked at Fort de France, island of Martinique.

SCHLEY'S SQUADRON.

The Fleet Stopped In at Charleston on Their Way and Then Sailed For Key West.

CHARLESTON, May 16.—The four vessels of war comprising the major portion of the flying squadron, Commodore Schley, anchored off Charleston bar, nine miles from Charleston city, at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, after having been at sea for three days and with no sign of the Spanish cruisers or torpedo-boats said to be in this locality. The squadron sailed later for Key West.

The Weather.

Partly cloudy, possibly light showers; light easterly winds.

LOST A LOT OF MONEY

When the East End Flint Mill Burned Today.

WILL BE REBUILT AT ONCE

Because the Mills of the Country Cannot Supply the Demand—The Loss Is $80,000 With Some Insurance—Story of the Fire.

The plant of the Potters' Mining and Milling company in East End was this morning totally destroyed by fire.

A few minutes after 4 o'clock Charles Miller was standing on a platform oiling the machinery. As it was dark it was necessary to use a torch, and the oil caught fire and in a remarkably short time the woodwork was in a blaze. An alarm was sent to the fire station, and the employes ran out the two inch hose of the plant and attached it to the fire plug, but the plant burned like tinder and had too much of a start to be saved.

The fire department took the small hose cart to the scene, but the plant was doomed, the pressure of water not being sufficient to permit another line of hose to be attached. The new brick spar mill is also a total loss as well as all the material.

In the excitement of the fire the workmen forgot to shut off the 250 horse power engine, and in a short time the governor belt was burned through and the engine started at a frightful velocity. As a result the large fly wheel burst throwing pieces a distance of 300 feet, and ploughing up the ground in several places. Luckily no person was injured as it was too early for the crowd to gather. A conservative estimate of the loss is $80,000, while the total insurance carried is $43,000.

Four freight cars valued at $1,600 were also destroyed.

The Potters' Mining and Milling company was incorporated in 1887 with a capital stock of $80,000. The present mill was then built at a cost of between $60,000 and $70,000 and was the best as well as the largest plant in the United States, having a capacity of 40 tons a day. Since that time new machinery has been placed in the plant and a brick spar mill has been erected. The officers of the company are: President, George Goodwin; vice president, Homer Laughlin; secretary, J. G. Lee; treasurer, William Cartright.

Should the potteries be running full in the city, without the mill there is not enough flint manufactured in the United States to supply the demand, and they would have to shut down unless the present plants increased their capacity to a great extent.

The company had contracted for the sprinkler system, and it would have been in the plant in a few weeks.

The stockholders met this morning and decided to rebuild at once. The structure will be brick, and the architect will begin at once. The capacity of the plant will not be increased, but it will be the most modern in the United States. Telegrams were sent to engine manufacturers ordering the machinery at once, and it will be but a short time until work is under way.

Many Men Were Drunk.

Drunks were very numerous in the streets and alleys yesterday afternoon, and the saloons must have run their back doors wide open.

One case of dilerium tremens was seen in an alley, while another party was lying against a prominent church, sound asleep.

PONCE DE LEON'S ISLE.

Puerto Rico Is a Fertile and Healthy Country.

HOW THE ISLAND IS GOVERNED.

Its Climate, Agricultural Products and Profitable Cattle Raising Industry—How the Island Is Divided—Principal Towns and Fortifications—The Early Inhabitants and Their Spanish Conquerors.

The island of Puerto Rico is the smaller of Spain's two remaining colonies in West Indian waters. It lies 80 miles to the east of Haiti, and close beside it to the westward lies the group comprising the Virgin islands. Puerto Rico's general shape is that of a parallelogram. Its length is 108 miles and its breadth in its widest part is 37. A range of hills traverses the island from east to west some distance from the southern coast. These hills—the highest, El Yunque, being 3,600 feet high—intercept the northeast trade winds, and the northern lowlands have oftentimes an overabundant supply of water, while severe droughts often are experienced in the south, making it necessary to have recourse to artificial irrigation. In general, however, the island is well watered. The coast line is indented with many bays and creeks, several of which can be used by ships of heavy burden. In accordance with the situation of the mountain chain, the rivers which flow toward the northern coast are longer and deeper than those on the opposite side, and several of the former allow coasting vessels to enter five or six miles.

The climate of Puerto Rico is supposed to be less unhealthy for Europeans than in most of the Antilles, and the heat, even in the months of summer, is not so severe as in other parts of the West Indies. The lack of good roads and of bridges in many parts of the island has been one cause of the failure of the island to develop its real value as a producer of agricultural products. In late years, however, the government has done much to increase the island's resources. Gold, coal, copper, iron and salt are found, but the last alone is mined. Sugar and coffee are the staple products, the former being grown for the most part on the southern coast. On the fertile plains to the north of the hills tobacco, cotton, maize and tropical fruits grow readily. Rice, the principal food, is a mountain variety, needing little rain. Much of the tobacco is sent to Havana for manufacture. The mountains are covered with forests which yield valuable dyes and hard woods for export.

Cattle raising is another profitable industry to the inhabitants, and the pasture lands in the north and east are superior to any others in the West Indies. A large traffic has been carried on with the neighboring French, English and Danish possessions. Exports of various kinds, which in 1850 amounted to about $11,000,000, had in 1891 reached a total of nearly $17,000,000.

Seven departments, each under the command of a Spanish colonel, make up the island. Bayamon, in which is San Juan, the capital, Arecibo and Aguadilla are on the northern side of the range. Mayaguez covers the southwest part, Ponce and Guyama are on the southern side, and the eastern part is taken up with Humacao. The island of Bieque, to the east, makes an eighth department, which is used as a military penal station. The population of the island—which in 1830 was only 319,000—numbered 754,313, of whom 324,840 were colored. The total population at present numbers about 900,000. The people of European origin are Spaniards, Germans, Swedes, Danes, Russians, Frenchmen and Chuetas, or descendants of the Moorish Jews of Majorca. There are also some Chinese. The small landholders in the country districts are called gibaros and are of Spanish origin, modified by Indian blood.

San Juan, the capital and chief seaport, lies on Morro island, on the north coast, and is connected with the mainland by bridges. The ground rises toward the ocean in low hills, and the city lies directly behind the highest one at the harbor's entrance. Fortifications, some of them of an obsolete type, protect the city from an attack on the land side, while on the bluffs fronting the ocean new batteries of Krupp guns are said to have been placed, from which a plunging fire can be directed on approaching vessels. The channel at the eastern end of the island has a depth of only 1 1/4 fathoms, but two batteries have been mounted here to prevent the landing of troops for a shore attack. The bay is of an oval shape and admits ships of heavy tonnage. Opposite Morro Castle, where the new guns are said to have been mounted, lies Carras island, but it is not known whether this has also been fortified. The chart shows a small fort, apparently a floating battery, just behind Carras at the bay's mouth.

In the old fort of Santa Catalina are the governor's palace and a cathedral, a town house, a theater and an old palace built by Ponce de Leon are among the sights of the town. It has a population of about 26,000. Ponce, on the south coast, has a population of about 40,000. Private houses are built of wood, and only the government buildings are constructed of brick and stone. There are a town hall, a public hospital and an English Episcopal church in the city, which is lighted throughout by gas supplied by an English company. Mayaguez, on the west coast, is several miles inland. Its population is about 30,000, and it has military barracks, clubs and gasworks. Other towns are Gugama, on the south coast, and Aguadilla, on the west. The only safe harbors at all times of the year are San Juan, Hovas and Guanica. English, German and American steamers make regular trips to these three ports, and in 1891 1,300 vessels were reported.

Puerto Rico, called Borinon by the aborigines, was discovered by Columbus on Nov. 15, 1493. Ponce de Leon was the first to make a settlement, when in 1510 he founded the town of Caparra, which soon afterward was abandoned. In the following year he founded the city of San Juan. The Caribs, whose number, probably exaggerated, was put at 600,000, suffered so greatly from the cruelties of their Spanish conquerors that they rebelled against them and were gradually exterminated in consequence. Interesting relics of their civilization are preserved in the Smithsonian institution and in the Berlin Ethnological museum. In 1595 Drake sacked the capital, an exploit which was repeated three years later by the Earl of Cumberland. In 1615 Baldwin Heinrich, a Dutchman, was killed in an attack on the city, and an attempt made by the English to capture the city in 1678 was also unsuccessful. In 1797 Sir Ralph Abercromby besieged the city for three days and was forced to retire, though, in the same campaign, he captured Grenada, Demerara and Trinidad.

Government laws and institutions are about the same in Puerto Rico as in other Spanish dependencies. There is a captain general, whose authority in military matters is absolute, and who in civil affairs is president of the royal "audiencia." This court is composed of a regent, three judges, the revenue officer and a marshal. It is superior to all other constituted authorities, including the ecclesiastical tribunal. In the seven capitals of the departments the mayors administer justice, and in the smaller towns there are justices of the peace, who determine small debts and collect duties, receiving 6 per cent on the collections. They are appointees of the captain general, who also has charge of the appointments of the clergy on the bishop's recommendation. The permanent army consists of four battalions of rifles of four companies each, one battalion of fortress artillery of five companies, one section of cavalry, one of artillery workmen, a sanitary brigade and one "tercio" of the civil guard. There are also several corps of volunteers, organized in a manner similar to those of Cuba. The permanent army numbers 213 officers and 3,630 men.—New York Tribune.

TRACY ON THE PHILIPPINES.

He Says We May Find It More Difficult to Get Rid of Them Than to Keep Them.

Benjamin F. Tracy, former secretary of the navy, recently declined to say whether or not the offer of the military governorship of the Philippine islands had been made to him. Replying to the further question as to what the United States should do with the islands, Mr. Tracy said:

"We must hold them by all means. They were taken as a war measure, and they are a magnificent possession to this country. They will be invaluable as a coaling station and will give us more of a standing in that part of the world. The Monroe doctrine does not apply to them. They were not taken for the sake of conquest, and their possession comes to us legitimately and rightly. We will find it more difficult to get rid of them than to keep them, because if we try to dispose of them other nations may say that the Monroe doctrine has been outraged in their capture and may refuse to take them from us on that account. Fearing complications which may result in their being given back to Spain, we must keep them after having captured them."—New York Sun.

Its population is about 30,000, and it has military barracks, clubs and gasworks. Other towns are Guayama, on the south coast, and Aguadilla, on the west. The only safe harbors at all times of the year are San Juan, Hovas and Guanica. English, German and American steamers make regular trips to these three ports, and in 1891 1,300 vessels were reported.

Puerto Rico, called Borinon by the aborigines, was discovered by Columbus on Nov. 15, 1493. Ponce de Leon was the first to make a settlement, when in 1510 he founded the town of Caparra, which soon afterward was abandoned. In the following year he founded the city of San Juan. The Caribs, whose number, probably exaggerated, was put at 600,000, suffered so greatly from the cruelties of their Spanish conquerors that they rebelled against them and were gradually exterminated in consequence. Interesting relics of their civilization are preserved in the Smithsonian institution and in the Berlin Ethnological museum. In 1595 Drake sacked the capital, an exploit which was repeated three years later by the Earl of Cumberland. In 1615 Baldwin Heinrich, a Dutchman, was killed in an attack on the city, and an attempt made by the English to capture the city in 1678 was also unsuccessful. In 1797 Sir Ralph Abercromby besieged the city for three days and was forced to retire, though, in the same campaign, he captured Grenada, Demerara and Trinidad.

Government laws and institutions are about the same in Puerto Rico as in other Spanish dependencies. There is a captain general, whose authority in military matters is absolute, and who in civil affairs is president of the royal "audiencia." This court is composed of a regent, three judges, the revenue officer and a marshal. It is superior to all other constituted authorities, including the ecclesiastical tribunal. In the seven capitals of the departments the mayors administer justice, and in the smaller towns there are justices of the peace, who determine small debts and collect duties, receiving 6 per cent on the collections. They are appointees of the captain general, who also has charge of the appointments of the clergy on the bishop's recommendation. The permanent army consists of four battalions of rifles of four companies each, one battalion of fortress artillery of five companies, one section of cavalry, one of artillery workmen, a sanitary brigade and one "tercio" of the civil guard. There are also several corps of volunteers, organized in a manner similar to those of Cuba. The permanent army numbers 213 officers and 3,630 men.—New York Tribune.

TRACY ON THE PHILIPPINES.

He Says We May Find It More Difficult to Get Rid of Them Than to Keep Them.

Benjamin F. Tracy, former secretary of the navy, recently declined to say whether or not the offer of the military governorship of the Philippine islands had been made to him. Replying to the further question as to what the United States should do with the islands, Mr. Tracy said:

"We must hold them by all means. They were taken as a war measure, and they are a magnificent possession to this country. They will be invaluable as a coaling station and will give us more of a standing in that part of the world. The Monroe doctrine does not apply to them. They were not taken for the sake of conquest, and their possession comes to us legitimately and rightly. We will find it more difficult to get rid of them than to keep them, because if we try to dispose of them other nations may say that the Monroe doctrine has been outraged in their capture and may refuse to take them from us on that account. Fearing complications which may result in their being given back to Spain, we must keep them after having captured them."—New York Sun.

LOST A LOT OF MONEY

When the East End Flint Mill Burned Today.

WILL BE REBUILT AT ONCE

Because the Mills of the Country Cannot Supply the Demand—The Loss Is $80,000 With Some Insurance—Story of the Fire.

The plant of the Potters' Mining and Milling company in East End was this morning totally destroyed by fire.

A few minutes after 4 o'clock Charles Miller was standing on a platform oiling the machinery. As it was dark it was necessary to use a torch, and the oil caught fire and in a remarkably short time the woodwork was in a blaze. An alarm was sent to the fire station, and the employees ran out the two inch hose of the plant and attached it to the fire plug, but the plant burned like tinder and had too much of a start to be saved.

The fire department took the small hose cart to the scene, but the plant was doomed, the pressure of water not being sufficient to permit another line of hose to be attached. The new brick spar mill is also a total loss as well as all the material.

In the excitement of the fire the workmen forgot to shut off the 250 horse power engine, and in a short time the governor belt was burned through and the engine started at a frightful velocity. As a result the large fly wheel burst throwing pieces a distance of 300 feet, and ploughing up the ground in several places. Luckily no person was injured as it was too early for the crowd to gather. A conservative estimate of the loss is $80,000, while the total insurance carried is $43,000.

Four freight cars valued at $1,600 were also destroyed.

The Potters' Mining and Milling company was incorporated in 1887 with a capital stock of $80,000. The present mill was then built at a cost of between $60,000 and $70,000 and was the best as well as the largest plant in the United States, having a capacity of 40 tons a day. Since that time new machinery has been placed in the plant and a brick spar mill has been erected. The officers of the company are: President, George Goodwin; vice president, Homer Laughlin; secretary, J. G. Lee; treasurer, William Cartright.

Should the potteries be running full in the city, without the mill there is not enough flint manufactured in the United States to supply the demand, and they would have to shut down unless the present plants increased their capacity to a great extent.

The company had contracted for the sprinkler system, and it would have been in the plant in a few weeks.

The stockholders met this morning and decided to rebuild at once. The structure will be brick, and the architect will begin at once. The capacity of the plant will not be increased, but it will be the most modern in the United States. Telegrams were sent to engine manufacturers ordering the machinery at once, and it will be but a short time until work is under way.

Many Men Were Drunk.

Drunks were very numerous in the streets and alleys yesterday afternoon, and the saloons must have run their back doors wide open.

One case of delirium tremens was seen in an alley, while another party was lying against a prominent church, sound asleep.

LONG YEARS OF SERVICE

On the Part of Dr. J. C. Taggart Were Remembered.

RESULTS OF HIS PASTORATE

Brought Out in an Excellent Sermon Delivered at the Morning Service—The Church Was Decorated For the Occasion.

Yesterday was the twenty-ninth anniversary of the Rev. J. C. Taggart as pastor of the First U. P. church. In anticipation of the day the young people had decorated the pulpit with palms, potted plants, cut flowers and bunting showing our national colors.

The text, coming in regular course of the study of the epistle, was Hebrews x. 25, giving as a theme, "The importance of coming regularly together for the services of the church, and the duty of making these services helpful to one another." The aim of the sermon was to show that pastor and people have a mutual and reciprocal duty in making these services interesting and instructive, and that those who would draw nigh to God in fullness of faith and hold fast the confession of their hope must consider one another to provoke to love and good works, not forsaking the assembly of themselves together, as the manner of some is.

In a brief review of the past 29 years it was noted that whatever disadvantages and loss, in the way of hearing new voices, there might have been to the congregation by having the same pastor, they had at least the advantage of the regular services. Only two or three Sabbaths had the pastor been kept from the pulpit on account of ill health, and but very few Sabbaths had the pulpit been vacant.

During that time the present church building had been erected and three chapels for Sabbath school purposes had been built within the limits of the congregation. One of these is occupied by the Second church. During the 29 years the pastor has preached 3,318 times and made 435 funeral addresses. At the beginning of the pastorate there were 95 on the roll of membership. Of these 23 are still in the fellowship of the congregation and three in the Second church. There have been 870 names added to the roll—an average of 30 a year. The decrease has been 95 by death and 489 by dismissal and removal, leaving a present membership of 381. The sacrament of baptism has been administered to 297 children and 84 adults.

The total contributions of the congregation, so far as the record has been kept, has been $107,447. Of this amount $21,380 have been given to the missionary boards of the church. The contributions for missions for the past year were $1,467.

Knowing that the time is short and that the day of final reckoning is fast approaching, pastor and people were exhorted to give themselves diligently and unswervingly to the Lord's work, and to the performance of all the duties and to the enjoyment of all the privileges to which the "opened sanctuary calls."

MUNICIPAL ROTTENNESS

Gave Doctor Huston an Opportunity to Preach a Good Sermon.

Dr. J. M. Huston last evening at the M. E. church delivered an eloquent sermon upon the subject of "Municipal Government."

He did not touch upon local affairs except to state that the council should stand by the mayor in his appointments. The general rottenness of municipal government in the United States was strongly condemned.

UNION PAPERS.

All Union papers of East Liverpool are brown to the various craft and unions of the city by the printing of the above Union Label at the head of their columns.

REMEMBER THE MAINE.

The country is waiting for Commodore Schley to prove just how much there is in a name.

When we remember that Ohio's volunteer troops moved last Saturday we know the old state is first in war as well as in peace.

Spain will lose a whole lot of friends in France if she fails to pay those next coupons. Sentiment is forgotten when money is concerned in that land.

The Steubenville Gazette bemoans the fact that a few Americans have been killed in the war. Did it expect this thing to go on without someone being hurt?

The board of strategy, or whoever is in control, may know its business, but there are a number of million people in this country who think the time has come to help Admiral Dewey.

FAKE BULLETINS.

The city was treated to another exhibition of fake bulletins sent out from a local newspaper office Saturday afternoon. Thirsting for sensationalism and grasping at every straw it announced that a great naval battle had been fought and a few of America's best battleships had been sent to the bottom of the sea. The report occasioned some little stir, but when the NEWS REVIEW announced that no battle had taken place and the Iowa and Indiana were still afloat the public knew the bulletin to be a fake pure and simple, and that another black mark had been added to the blunderer's long list of blunders.

There is no excuse for that sort of thing. Any one who follows reliable reports as they come from the seat of war knows that naval battles under existing circumstances are not possible. When Admiral Sampson's fleet is within striking distance of the Cape Verde squadron something will likely happen, but there will be no engagement while they are hundreds of miles apart.

The incident of Saturday showed one of two things. Either the paper in question is so unscrupulous as to knowingly publish notoriously unreliable reports, or it has reached that point where it is unable to distinguish news from rot.

THE POLICE QUESTION.

The streets of East Liverpool were yesterday disgraced by the presence of a number of drunken men. Some might have retained the influence of the liquor they had swallowed Saturday night, but the best explanation can probably be found in the fact that some saloons were doing business yesterday, and when their victims were well filled they turned them out upon the streets to disgrace the community, and serve as disgusting proofs of the fact that some one was not doing his duty.

The fault lies with the police. It is the duty of every officer to see that the saloons in his district are not in operation when the law says they should be closed. A blind man, even though he wore the blue coat and brass buttons and drew the salary apportioned to his position by the city of East Liverpool, could have known that fact yesterday. Yet not a violation was reported.

Mayor Bough can do nothing without an efficient police force, and that he has not at present. The opposition of council should cease. The time has come when, if the members of the city government really desire a good government, they should let the responsibility with him. If he fails they lose nothing;

if he wins, his position has been vindicated. It has been shown, if by nothing more than the events of yesterday, that a police force selected by council is inefficient and worthless. Give Mayor Bough a chance.

SUPPORT MAYOR BOUGH.

He Should Have the Help of All Good Citizens.

To the NEWS REVIEW: Special correspondence from Camp Hastings, Mt. Gretna, Pa., May 14—I make note that Councilman Peach describes a Republican as a man "who voted for Governor Bushnell and A. V. Gilbert." What right has Councilman Peach to insult Governor Bushnell by such a comparison? I am as staunch and true a Republican as ever drew breath, loving the party for what it has done and is doing; but I did not vote for A. V. Gilbert, and thank God that I did not. I cast my vote for the present mayor, Charles F. Bough, and I glory in the fact, and can ask God's blessing on my ballot. Can Councilman Peach do the same? A Republican council in East Liverpool has no right to demand that Mayor Bough shall appoint policemen who are "KNOWN REPUBLICANS" as per the claim and EVIDENCE (?) adduced by Councilman Peach. Mayor Bough was elected by clean Republicans, clean Democrats and clean Prohibitionists. In a word he was elected by the best citizens of East Liverpool, on a representative citizens' ticket, in antagonism to the very worst element in East Liverpool. Mayor Bough has placed the name of John Wyman before council, and council has turned him down; turned down a life long Republican and the very best officer who ever did duty in East Liverpool—a man of true courage, fearless in the performance of his duty, a power in the interest of good and clean government, and the dread of evil doers and illegal liquor sellers. I am a Republican, clean and true, thank God, having the courage of my convictions, and I have but one regret, aside from my longing for home and wife, and that is that my duty to my country prevents me from doing battle royal for Mayor Bough and clean government in East Liverpool. I pray God that Charles F. Bough may be composed of the right stuff for an emergency; that he may demand his rights and stand by the demand, and that all good citizens may rally to his support. We expect to leave for Chickamauga in a few hours.

WHIPS HIS WIFE.

But the Neighbors Will Stop the Practice Very Soon.

Residents of Third street are complaining about a man who gets drunk, and comes home and proceeds to beat his wife.

A few evenings ago he chased her out of the house and her cries for help brought the neighbors to her rescue, and the fellow was informed that he would have to behave himself or they would take a hand in the matter and send him to jail.

GONE TO THE PEN.

Sheriff Gill Disposed of a Few Prisoners Today.

LISBON, May 16.—[Special]—Sheriff Gill took Charles Ewing, of Liverpool, to the penitentiary this morning, and Howard Mathews, of the same place, to Lancaster. Only three prisoners remain at the county jail.

A marriage license was granted Frank Kiddy and Mary Hudson, of Wellsville.

Skating Next Winter.

The people of the city will at last have a skating park as the proprietors of Columbian park have decided to flood the interior of the race track and fix it up when winter comes.

The park will be well illuminated with electric lights.

Drunken Fight.

Two drunken individuals late Saturday night engaged in a fight at the corner of Third street. They were unable to do each other any damage, but disgusted the neighbors with their loud talk. They were finally separated by the spectators.

Good Trade Saturday.

There were a large number of people on the streets Saturday evening, and business men say they had the best trade they have had for several weeks.

GRADUATES AT CHURCH

Heard the Baccalaureate Sermon by Rev. Dr. Lee.

GOD MUST BE RECOGNIZED

Without His Help There Is No Success. Influence and Power Made Up the Principal Part of an Eloquent Address—The Church Crowded.

Rev. Dr. John Lloyd Lee yesterday morning at the First Presbyterian church preached to the senior class and the remainder of the high school, the audience room being crowded with a large congregation.

The guests of the day marched into the church with Superintendent Rayman and the faculty of the high school at their head and occupied the center block of pews. "All Hail the Power of Jesus Name" following the singing of the doxology, and a portion of the twenty-eighth chapter of Job was read responsively by Professor Rayman and the students. They also sang "Take My Life and Let It Be," and Doctor Lee's prayer, which followed, was at once eloquent and earnest. After the singing of "Awake My Soul," the reverend gentleman delivered the sermon. The text, Job xxxviii, 31, were these words "Canst thou bind the sweet influences of the Pleiades?" He said in part:

"The question is addressed to his people by an all wise God. He challenges us to see if we are as mighty as he. God says control thou these things; take them to suit thy purpose. Canst thou gather up these sweet influences, or the sunbeams which go to make the spring? He throws out a picture higher toward the heavens, down deeper to mystery and wider than the sun. In the next clause of the verse he asserts that man cannot do it when he says "Or loose the bonds of Orion." So God holds up what I would have you remember.

"There is war between good and bad influences. Here are the Pleiades of spring, there the Orion of winter. Shall they be one or the other? After a battle, they once said, the spirits of the slain continued the contest in the clouds. It is true it will go on, whether we wish it or not. Theodore Parker, as he was dying in Italy, said there was one Theodore Parker there and one in America who would not die. It is impossible to gather up the influences which go to make up our lives. No man can. We gather together the influences we have sent out. What then is to be your attitude?"

"It is necessary to place ourselves in line with God. We are to learn the lesson that will bring ourselves in harmony with God. How? Moses learned it in the burning bush. Then were spoken the first words of liberty for a broken people. He learned again in the pillar of fire by night and in the cloud by day, and in the rock of the desert from which sprang the life giving stream.

"The Germans when conquered by Napoleon went home and spent their days in learning, and there learned the wisdom that would later lead them to victory. When the time came they sprang forward and rushed on until Bismark stood upon the balcony at Versailles and proclaimed William I emperor of the German empire. She has continued to learn, and is today among the foremost nations of the earth. She put herself in line with God.

"Morse listened to the voice of God, and in a flash of lightning saw the new alphabet and in the thunder heard the new language. Edison, the wizard, long before he heard your voice by means of his wonderful appliance, heard the infinite voice of God. He put himself in line with God, and the world stands awed. Thou canst bind much if thou but put thyself in line with God.

"Influence of itself can do little. It is of man, but power is of God. You gain little if you trust to yourself; you gain much quickly if you trust to God.

"We should have power of the holy spirit. Force is successful at times, but only for a little while. Failure awaits you if you have not the power of God. Influence is what goes out from you; power is what comes from God. Can man go through life without this help? Would a sailor attempt the sea without a rudder? Would you go to a strange city without knowing the road? Is man prepared to work without the power of the soul?"

"When you think of life with its many doors out of which may flow good, and of the roads which lead to darkness, do we need God? The apostle says we have peace and it is to abide with us. It is a sentinel set within to guard us. Now comes lust, and peace says stay; envy, to do deadly work, and

Had a Warm Time.

William Smith was arrested yesterday afternoon by Officer Duncan at 4:30 o'clock. He was very drunk. Residents in the vicinity of Third street say Smith seemed to be hunting trouble all morning and William Dennis and he were soon at it. John Dennis appeared on the scene, and Smith was turned down over the bank of a small stream which was supposed to assist nature in cooling the heated blood and brain of Smith. At the time of the arrest the excitement had somewhat subsided.

Installed Officers.

The Methodist Episcopal church was beautifully decorated with flowers yesterday. The occasion was the closing of the year of the Epworth league, and the installation of the new officers. The reports from each of the old officers was heard downstairs at the meeting of the league, but the installation took place above, directly after the sermon by Doctor Reager. A quartet composed of Thomas Edwards, Frank Kelley, Joseph Edwards and Elmer Thayer furnished special music for the occasion.

REMEMBER THE MAINE.

THE country is waiting for Commodore Schley to prove just how much there is in a name.

WHEN we remember that Ohio's volunteer troops moved last Saturday we know the old state is first in war as well as in peace.

SPAIN will lose a whole lot of friends in France if she fails to pay those next coupons. Sentiment is forgotten when money is concerned in that land.

THE Steubenville Gazette bemoans the fact that a few Americans have been killed in the war. Did it expect this thing to go on without someone being hurt?

THE board of strategy, or whoever is in control, may know its business, but there are a number of million people in this country who think the time has come to help Admiral Dewey.

FAKE BULLETINS.

The city was treated to another exhibition of fake bulletins sent out from a local newspaper office Saturday afternoon. Thirsting for sensationalism and grasping at every straw it announced that a great naval battle had been fought and a few of America's best battleships had been sent to the bottom of the sea.
 The report occasioned some little stir,
 but when the NEWS REVIEW announced that no battle had taken place and the Iowa and Indiana were still afloat the public knew the bulletin to be a fake pure and simple, and that another black mark had been added to the blunderer's long list of blunders.

There is no excuse for that sort of thing. Any one who follows reliable reports as they come from the seat of war knows that naval battles under existing circumstances are not possible.
 When Admiral Sampson's fleet is within striking distance of the Cape Verde squadron something will likely happen, but there will be no engagement while they are hundreds of miles apart.

The incident of Saturday showed one of two things. Either the paper in question is so unscrupulous as to knowingly publish notoriously unreliable reports, or it has reached that point where it is unable to distinguish news from rot.

THE POLICE QUESTION.

The streets of East Liverpool were yesterday disgraced by the presence of a number of drunken men. Some might have retained the influence of the liquor they had swallowed Saturday night, but the best explanation can probably be found in the fact that some saloons were doing business yesterday, and when their victims were well filled
 they turned them out upon the streets to disgrace the community, and serve as disgusting proofs of the fact that some one was not doing his duty.

The fault lies with the police. It is the duty of every officer to see that the saloons in his district are not in operation when the law says they should be closed. A blind man, even though he wore the blue coat and brass buttons and drew the salary apportioned to his position by the city of East Liverpool, could have known that fact yesterday.
 Yet not a violation was reported.

Mayor Bough can do nothing without an efficient police force, and that he has not at present. The opposition of council should cease. The time has come when, if the members of the city government really desire a good government, they should let the responsibility with him. If he fails they lose nothing;

if he wins, his position has been vindicated. It has been shown, if by nothing more than the events of yesterday, that a police force selected by council is inefficient and worthless. Give Mayor Bough a chance.

SUPPORT MAYOR BOUGH.

He Should Have the Help of All Good Citizens.

To the NEWS REVIEW: Special correspondence from Camp Hastings, Mt.
 Gretna, Pa., May 14—I make note that Councilman Peach describes a Republican as a man "who voted for Governor Bushnell and A. V. Gilbert." What right has Councilman Peach to insult Governor Bushnell by such a comparison? I am as staunch and true a Republican as ever drew breath, loving the party for what it has done and is doing;
 but I did not vote for A. V. Gilbert, and thank God that I did not. I cast my vote for the present mayor, Charles F.
 Bough, and I glory in the fact, and can ask God's blessing on my ballot. Can Councilman Peach do the same? A Republican council in East Liverpool has no right to demand that Mayor Bough shall appoint policemen who are
 "KNOWN REPUBLICANS" as per the claim and EVIDENCE (?) adduced by Councilman Peach. Mayor Bough was elected by clean Republicans, clean Democrats and clean Prohibitionists.
 In a word he was elected by the best citizens of East Liverpool, on a representative citizens' ticket, in antagonism to the very worst element in East Liverpool. Mayor Bough has placed the name of John Wyman before council, and council has turned him down; turned down a life long Republican and the very best officer who ever did duty in East Liverpool—a man of true courage, fearless in the performance of his duty, a power in the interest of good and clean government, and the dread of evil doers and illegal liquor sellers. I am a Republican, clean and true, thank God, having the courage of my convictions, and I have but one regret, aside from my longing for home and wife, and that is that my duty to my country prevents me from doing battle royal for Mayor Bough and clean government in East Liverpool. I pray God that Charles F. Bough may be composed of the right stuff for an emergency; that he may demand his rights and stand by the demand, and that all good citizens may rally to his support.
 We expect to leave for Chickamauga in a few hours.

GRADUATES AT CHURCH

Heard the Baccalaureate Ser-

GOD MUST BE RECOGNIZED

Without His Help There Is No Success.
 Influence and Power Made Up the Principal Part of an Eloquent Address—The Church Crowded.

Rev. Dr. John Lloyd Lee yesterday morning at the First Presbyterian church preached to the senior class and the remainder of the high school, the audience room being crowded with a large congregation.

The guests of the day marched into the church with Superintendent Rayman and the faculty of the high school at their head and occupied the center block of pews. "All Hail the Power of Jesus Name" following the singing of the doxology, and a portion of the twenty-eighth chapter of Job was read responsively by Professor Rayman and the students. They also sang "Take My prayer, which followed, was at once eloquent and earnest. After the singing of "Awake My Soul," the reverend gentleman delivered the sermon. The text, Job xxxviii, 31, were these words

 "Canst thou bind the sweet influences of the Pleiades?" He said in part:

"The question is addressed to his peous to see if we are as mighty as he. God to gather up the influences which go to

William Smith was arrested yesterday afternoon by Officer Duncan at 4:30 o'clock. He was very drunk. Residents in the vicinity of Third street say Smith seemed to be hunting trouble all morning and William Dennis and he were soon at it. John Dennis appeared on the scene, and Smith was turned down over the bank of a small stream which was supposed to assist nature in cooling
 the heated blood and brain of Smith.
 At the time of the arrest the excitement had somewhat subsided.

Installed Officers.

The Methodist Episcopal church was beautifully decorated with flowers yesterday. The occasion was the closing of the year of the Epworth league, and the installation of the new officers. The reports from each of the old officers was heard downstairs at the meeting of the league, but the installation took place above, directly after the sermon by Doctor Reager. A quartet composed of Thomas Edwards, Frank Kelley, Joseph Edwards and Elmer Thayer furnished special music for the occasion.

SIGHTED OFF CUBA

The Spanish Fleet Is Not Far Away.

KEY WEST IS MUCH EXCITED

But Positive Information Is Not Now Obtainable—Blanco Has Agreed to Exchange the Two Newspaper Correspondents Captured Last Week.

KEY WEST, May 16.—[Special]—Key West is in a furor of excitement this afternoon, and all because of a report which was widely circulated.

The report says that the Spanish fleet had been sighted early this morning 18 miles out off the northern coast of Cuba. It was then moving under a full head of steam. Its destination is, of course, unknown, but the excitement here is intense. The proximity of the fleet to this place gives rise to the belief that something important may develop within the next few hours.

The report has not been confirmed.

ONLY ON FURLOUGH.

Captain Hobbs Sent Home Until He Is Needed.

Surgeon W. A. Hobbs, arrived home Saturday evening from Camp Bushnell. Owing to the fact that only one surgeon will be taken with the Eighth, Captain Hobbs was thrown out of his place. He was not discharged, but was given an extended furlough and was told to hold himself in readiness for orders at any time. The captain does not expect to be called should the regiment remain in Washington, but says if they are ordered to the front his services will be asked.

Private Samuel Moon arrived home yesterday on a furlough. His wife is seriously ill. He was ordered to report today if his wife was better, but told to remain if she was still seriously ill. He called on Mayor Bough this afternoon for transportation to Steubenville, as he will join his regiment on their way to Washington.

A Pittsburg paper this morning published the picture of Capt. W. M. Hill, of Company E. His friends recognized it.

LONG LIST OF DRUNKS

Faced Mayor Bough in Court To-Day.

SOME OF THEM PAID UP

But Others Were Sent Back to Jail Until They Could Gather the Required Amount—They Plead For Leniency, but the Mayor Was Firm.

There was much business at city hall this morning and Mayor Bough was a very busy man. There was not an arrest made Saturday night and the cases disposed of were all secured yesterday.

The first offender proved to be Tim Bahan. He was arrested early yesterday by Officer Bryan and was taken to jail in the patrol, and charged with being drunk. He was fined $7.00 and committed until fine and costs are paid.

Bob Smith is the assumed name given by an employee of Harker's pottery. He was arrested last night by Officer Whan, who charged him with being drunk and disorderly. He was taken to jail in the patrol having been arrested in Sixth street. He was fined $9.00, and was told by the mayor that it would go hard with him if he was there again.

John Dungan pleaded guilty to being drunk and disorderly and was fined $9.00. He was taken to jail in the patrol in charge of Officer Grim. As he said he was single, the mayor gave him a severe lecture.

John Kelly was the star case of the morning. John came to town from Terre Haute last Friday to secure work as a stonemason. He was unsuccessful. He met several friends whom he knew in the old country and had not seen for 25 years, and one of them gave him a dollar and some whisky. Officer Woods saw him and he was given a ride to city hall, where he was charged with being drunk.

"Well judge, I am a married man, wife and four children to support, and if you will let me out I won't be five minutes in your old town."

This would not go and he was fined $6.00. As he was going back to jail he said: "If I stay in town I will rot, and that is no lie."

Colonel Parker started to work at the Dresden yesterday. He got drunk in the evening and was taken to jail in the patrol by Officer Woods. It cost him $6.00 and he was committed until it was paid.

John Maden has a wife and two children in Pittsburg. He worked on the Ohio Valley gas line last week, paid his board in advance and took a few drinks too much. Officer Woods gave him a ride, and Mayor Bough gave him $6.00.

Henry Allen was arrested by Woods, and with the ride it will cost him $6.00. He said he got drunk occasionally, but the mayor told him there was a lot of trouble in store for just such people.

The summary of the hearing is as follows: Arrests, 7; fines payable, $53.20; arrests by officers—Whan, 1; Grim, 1; Bryan, 1; Woods, 4; runs by patrol, 7.

At Ike's request the friend introduced him to the player. "Mr. Squat," said Ike, "really you are one of the most remarkable players I ever met." "Scott," said the player and the friend simultaneously. "No," said Ike gravely and firmly. "a man who can play billiards like that must spell his name with a q."—Exchange.

SOME MORE RAIN FOR SUNDAY

Nothing Was Observed but Dress Parade, While the Vapor Rising From the Well Soaked Camp Ground Was Stifling—Receiving Supplies.

CAMP BUSHNELL, May 15.—[Special.]—We are still hampered by rain. An electrical storm accompanied by the heaviest of the heavy downpours we have had since pitching camp, occurred just before daylight this morning. As a result the grounds, which had only commenced to be presentable, are a mass of yellow sticky mud, consequently visitors are not as plentiful as on last Sunday although there are thousands in camp. The sun came out bright this afternoon, and as a result the vapor arising from the soggy ground is stifling.

The Fourth Ohio Volunteer infantry broke camp at 10 o'clock this morning and marched to Columbus enroute to Chickamauga. They were escorted to the train by the Fifth infantry. A large number of the regiment are residents of Columbus, and tears from fathers, mother, brothers, sisters, sweethearts and wives were plentiful.

We expect to move next Tuesday for Washington. All is activity at the arsenal getting out the equipment for the regiment. Much work is being done, but it may be necessary to send the soldiers to their destination before the work is completed. The orders are to send the regiments to the front as fast as they can be mustered in. The supplies will be sent after them as soon as possible.

Sergeant Blake has been released from the hospital, but will not do duty for several days pending his complete recovery.

The boys are growing accustomed to government fare which, while not made up of the variety provided by the state, is wholesome, and consequently relished by all. Butter and milk will be provided by the company, and the boys are assured a small amount to meet this expense.

Inspection, always an important ceremony on Sunday, has been postponed for today, because of the mud. Liverpool people have been prone to look upon Calcutta road as one of those horrible examples we hear about, but some of the complainers should wade through our street as I write. Dress parade will be the only ceremony today.

Sergeant Hanley assembled the company, and read to them the articles of war so that no soldier if caught in the meshes laid out by Uncle Sam can plead ignorance of the offenses committed. As death is the penalty for a number of seemingly small offenses, the boys will think twice before transgressing.

The soldiers gave a musical and literary entertainment at the Young Men's Christian Association tent last night, and the attendance was a crush. The brigade showed that it has abundant talent in its ranks, and the entertainment was most enjoyable.

It is developing day by day that we have mechanics of all kind in camp. If there is anything to be done from mending a small rent to electric wiring there is always some useful chap to volunteer his services.

NEW YORK IS KICKING

Because the Crockery Trade Is Dead.

WHY PEOPLE DO NOT BUY

Is Something the Importers and Agents of American Houses Would Like to Know.
Trenton Continues to Feel the Influence of the War.

While all the potteries in Liverpool are in active operation, and we have felt but in a slight degree the influence of the war, the following from the Crockery Journal shows that things are at sixes and sevens in New York:

"With brighter skies and reassuring war news one naturally would expect a better condition of trade. For thirteen days in succession, barring one clear Saturday and Sunday the winds blew and the rain fell. A more miserable week than last week rarely falls to the lot of New York. Up to this writing the demand for goods has not taxed the resources of the importers beyond their ability to take care of all orders. Trade is decidedly better, and there are indications of further improvement. People will get over the scare before long and buy what they must have. It is simply ridiculous that because we are at war with Spain people should act as if the country had gone to the dogs.
With gold pouring into the country, with good crops assured—while all the rest of the world is short of breadstuffs, with the government a cash customer for a hundred million dollars' worth of goods, trade ought to boom and it will boom as soon as the public realizes the fact that whatever fighting is done will be done on water, and that on land there is no more danger than if there was no war. Seaside resorts have not bought their usual supplies for fear of the Spanish fleet, in spite of the repeated assurances furnished everywhere that an unfortified place will not be shelled,
and even a fortified place must be notified so that non-combatants may get out of the way. Still, this is the feeling that prevails, and this is what keeps trade down. Why don't buyers see that with prices going up the best thing
they can do is to get in a stock of goods?
It is predicted that the fall trade will be immense. How can it be if there is a shortage of goods in the crockery and glass trade?

The Trenton correspondent notes
some improvement in trade. He says:

"If you take Trenton as a whole you might say that business was pretty slow in manufacturing lines and those analogous to manufacturing. If you segregate the various institutions you are apt to find that some of them are at a standstill, while others are going right along doing business just as though nothing had happened to disturb the placid pool of their good fortune. Pick the potteries out of the list, and you will hear of some that are doing a fair business."

HORSE WENT MAD.

It Showed Symptoms of Hydrophobia and Was Shot.

A horse owned by Samuel Groves yesterday afternoon began acting in a strange manner and would grit its teeth and snap at every person that came near. It was held with guy lines in the alley, and attracted a large crowd.
It was not possible to do anything for it
as it showed every symptom of hydrophobia, and late in the evening it was shot. It is thought the animal was bitten by a mad dog sometime ago.

Gone to a Convention.

T. H. Arbuckle, A. H. Clark and Herbert Johnson left this morning for Galion, where they will attend the annual state convention of the American Mechanics.

Mr. Arbuckle occupies the position of state treasurer and will be re-elected.

Don't fail to see the grand free balloon ascension with a parachute jump and a high tower dive from a ladder 80 feet high, this is given free to all, in connection with Sparks' big one ring circus which will exhibit on Gaston's hill on Saturday afternoon and night,
May 21.

Taken Away For Interment.

Funeral services for Mrs. S. J. Haughhome of her daughter and were largely attended. The remains were taken this morning to Martin's Ferry for interment.

UNION LABELS.

It should be a deep-rooted principle of all union workmen and union sympathizers, and particularly those members of the different organizations of East
Liverpool, to buy nothing but Union
Label goods, in preference to all others.
And why not? If we ask fair wages for our labor, why should we buy goods made at unfair wages by others?

The Union Label in every industry is a guarantee of fair wages, decent working hours, and union labor employed.

PATRONIZE UNION CLERKS.

All members of the R. C. N. P. A. can show this card.
Ask for it when making your purchases.
Endorsed by the A. F. of L.

ONE-THIRD ACTUAL SIZE.
COLOR IS CHANGED EACH QUARTER.
Good only during months named in lower left hand corner and when properly signed, and STAMPED with the number of the Local.

UNION MADE BOOTS AND SHOES.

The Boot and Shoe Workers' union is
the national head of the trade, and is a new combination of
all the branches of boot and shoe workers. The above trade-mark, when found on the sole or lining of a boot or shoe, is a guarantee that the same is made by union labor. Look for the above design stamped on the sole of every pair of boots or shoes you buy.

CUSTOM TAILORS' LABEL.

The Journeymen Tailor's Label is to be found in the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the under side of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants. It is printed in black ink on white linen.

UNION MADE HATS.

This Label is about an inch and
a half square, and is printed on buff
colored paper. It is placed on every union made hat
before it leaves the workman's hands.
If a dealer takes a label from one hat
and places it in another, or has any detached labels in his store, do not buy from him, as his labels may be counterfeit, and his hats may be the product of scab or non-union labor.

UNION MADE CLOTHES.

You will find the linen label attached by machine stitching to the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the inside of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants.

BICYCLE LABEL.

"Do unto others
as ye would that others should do unto you." You will endorse the
"Golden Rule" by buying and riding bicycles bearing this label. The colors are as follows: The Union
shield is in red,
white and blue, on
a background of pea green, bordered by gold.

The Label will be placed on the upper front side of the tube that receives the seat post.

BLUE LABEL CIGARS.

This label is printed in black ink on light blue paper, and is pasted on the cigar-box.
Don't mix it up with the U. S. revenue label on the box, as the latter is nearly of a similar color.

TOBACCO LABEL.

The above Label, printed on blue paper, will be found on all plug tobacco and on the wrappers of chewing tobacco manufactured in union tobacco factories.

UNION BREAD AND CRACKERS.

This is a full size facsimile of the Label of the Bakers' and Con-fectioners' union. It is printed on fine white paper and is pasted on each loaf of union-made bread. It is an evidence that the bread is made under fair and wholesome conditions,
and in clean and healthy bakeries. Following is the confectioners' and cracker Label:

THE NEWS OF WELLSVILLE.

THE LAST SAD RITES

Over the Remains of the Late John Guttridge.

ELOQUENT WORDS OF CONDOLENCE

Were Given by Doctor Reager—Board of Trade and Masons Attended as Organizations—The Body Was Taken to Cleveland This Morning.

Funeral services over the remains of John Guttridge, manager of the new rolling mill company, were conducted yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Dr. J. S. Reager officiated.

The opening anthem, a beautiful piece of music, was sung by the Methodist choir, and Dr. Reager delivered an eloquent address. He spoke of the kind, loving nature of the man whose body lay there, and recalled the fact that he had ever done his best. The words of cheer for the bereaved son and daughter were beautiful, and many persons were in tears when the reverend gentleman sat down.

At this point the Masons took charge of the service. Mr. Guttridge having been a member of Mt. Moriah lodge, of St. Louis. The beautiful ceremony was passed through in a most impressive manner, the many members feeling that they had indeed lost a brother, although they had not yet learned to know him well.

The floral offerings were very beautiful, and there were very many of them. The basket of flowers sent by the board of trade was a magnificent specimen 52 by 34 inches. There were many other splendid offerings from among the many friends Mr. Guttridge had gathered about him during his brief residence in this place.

The board of trade and the Masons each attended the services as organizations, the former marching from city hall and the latter from their usual place of meeting. There were also a great many other persons present.

The body was taken this morning to Cleveland where it will be interred this afternoon. The funeral party was made up of the family and a number of close friends. The pallbearers were Philip White, John Reiber, S. D. Noragon, Tanner Snowden, James Stevenson and F. R. Martin.

Nothing has appeared to clear up the mystery surrounding the death of the unfortunate man, and even his closest friends have been unable to fathom the matter.

CAUGHT A BIG FISH

After a Hard Fight in the River at Walker.

Frank Fogo was fishing at Walker on Saturday and about 2 o'clock in the afternoon he caught a spoon fish of most unusual size for these waters. He brought it to town and it was found to weigh 21 pounds and the length was over three feet.

It was placed on exhibition in front of Wallace Fogo's restaurant and drew immense crowds of spectators, most of whom had never seen a fish of its size or variety. It was caught in a net and was still alive.

THEY WALKED HOME

After Missing the Last Car From Liverpool.

It is related that two well known young women of this place attended the opening of Rock Spring park Saturday night, but missed the last car home.

There was nothing for them to do but walk, and they set out on the long journey. Before they got home it began to rain, and as they were without protection they were thoroughly drenched.

Buried In Bellaire.

Old Mr. Peterson died yesterday at the residence of Joseph Irvin after a long illness. He was reared near Pugh town, Hancock county, and was well known to a great many people, having long been in the services of the railroad company.

Reverend McKee will conduct funeral services this evening at 7 o'clock, and the remains will be taken to Bellaire tomorrow for interment.

A Bicycle Accident.

Another slight accident with bicycles occurred on Broadway at the corner of Seventh street on Saturday about 2 o'clock. Miss Helen Bailey and Miss Bessie Parsons were riding together when Wilmer Blair and a companion attempted to cross a certain spot at about the same time. No one was hurt, but Miss Parsons' front wheel was wrecked.

DR. REAGER'S SERMON.

He Appealed to Council to Let the Closing Ordinance Alone.

At the First M. E. church yesterday Doctor Reager delivered a powerful sermon, his subject being "How splendid this record at the close of life." Among other good things he said:

"I am informed that an effort is to be made upon our city council to amend the closing ordinance, which now closes the saloons at 9 o'clock in the evening extending the time to 10 o'clock. I appeal to these, our representatives in the city government, not to do this. There can come no good to our fellow citizens by doing it. It is legislating in the interest of a very small class. We are a community of working people and need the hours of night for rest. Let there be no extra inducements offered for carousal; no man can carouse till 10 o'clock and do a full day's work the next day. The manufacturing interests of the town are somewhat protected by the present regulation and so are the homes. The quiet order on our streets after 9 o'clock is one of our best commendations. An extension of the closing ordinance can work nothing but ill to our little city. If you can add no further restrictions I beseech you, gentlemen of the council, not to disturb the status quo. If you do, the Christian sentiment will organize for reprisal by demanding the entire closing of the saloons. Fidelity in the Christian warfare is rewarded by divine approval, a conscience at peace with God and man, and the crown of life."

Methodist Protestant.

Rev. Stephenson preached from the text "He brought him to Jesus." He said:

"That was more than the greatest of inventions, the attainment of fame, or position, or culture, or wealth. It was the wonderful work of bringing a soul to the very source of life, life that is real and permanent."

"It was the reward that comes to those who are really in earnest. Andrew found Peter because he was deeply enough interested in him to seek him and keep it up till he found him. That was the most wonderful thing that Andrew ever did. True, he was a hunter for opportunities. He it was that found the boy with the loaves and fishes; he it was that found the Greeks that were seeking Jesus. He would know the time of final recompense. He did not, and could not bring Peter to Jesus until he had been to Him himself."

"You say that it is not a great thing to do, just to bring one soul to Christ. How many have done it? It was so great a thing that the record of it will never die."

First U. P. Church.

"Let all the people praise Thee" was Reverend Littell's sermon last evening.

"Salvation is for sinners," he said. "If you are not a sinner you do not need to look around for a sinner. We cannot ask a doctor to cure and also ask him to have our fever. Jesus came to ask sinners and not the righteous to repentance. I thank God I am a sinner, for then I am to be saved. We should not desire to be angels, but sinners and saved. Hope is grounded on the fact that I believe there is a way provided for salvation. He has given us this Bible, the most beautiful book in the universe. It has come down to us through flood and fire and blood. God has preserved it in a multitude of ways. We can surely believe the plan of salvation. All hope is founded on the fact that Jesus as intercessor gives as the pledge, he will do for us what we ask in his name."

The sermon was one of the best Reverend Littell ever delivered in Wellsville.

Disfigured For Life.

Mrs. S. G. Foley, who was injured at her home Saturday afternoon, it has been found is badly hurt.

She had placed a quantity of rice in a lard can on the stove, and when she returned found that the lid had become fastened. She pried it loose with a knife, and instantly there was an explosion. The boiling rice was blown into her face, causing wounds that will probably disfigure her for life.

A Ball Game.

There will be a base ball game on the ball ground Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, between the Wellsville team and East Liverpool Hilltops. Lineup is as follows: Catcher, Booth; pitcher, Heakin; short, Hamilton; first, Davis; second, Patterson; third, Joblin; left, McGarren; center, Grafton; right, Elkins.

HELPING THE SOLDIERS

Railroad Men Getting Out Cars For the Rush.

MANY OLD ONES IN SERVICE

Wellsville Has Contributed Its Share. There Is a Movement All Along the Line as the Pennsylvania Company Is Doing an Enormous Business.

To the present Wellsville has not sent many men to the war, but it is doing something to help along the cause.

Orders were received on Saturday to get all the cars possible in condition for use at once as they would be needed for the transportation of soldiers. Wellsville will contribute its share and can thus lend a helping hand.

The movement is general all along the line and along other divisions for the cars are badly needed to transport soldiers. The Pennsylvania company has secured some of the heaviest contracts, and thousands of men are being sent over some part of the system every day. There have been no wrecks, and local railroad men are very proud of the record.

SHOT HIMSELF

While Removing Cartridges From a Revolver.

Soon after noon yesterday James Roberts, who had gone out by himself for a stroll, in attempting to remove the cartridges from a 32 self acting revolver, accidentally shot himself.

The ball passed through the two middle fingers of his right hand and down into his right leg half way between the knee and thigh, and lodged there. At the time the accident occurred he was in Bunting hollow, near the Lyth works, and entirely alone.

He started for the street car line and reached his home in the rear of Third street. His mother was away at the time, and young Roberts waited her arrival before sending for a doctor. At last Doctor Hutcheson was sent for and dressed the wounded fingers. He probed for the ball and succeeded in extracting it.

This morning he is resting as comfortably as possible under the circumstances. The doctor does not anticipate any serious results.

Roberts is about 17 years of age and has been employed with William H. Sheckler, the junk dealer, in Third street.

Personal.

Miss Jennie Hague is visiting her aunt, Mrs. J. H. Atkinson, at New Cumberland, W. Va.

Miss Jennie Denham, who has been attending a United Presbyterian convention at Cleveland, returned Saturday evening.

Daniel Smith and wife and William Flahaven and two daughters, returned to their home Saturday evening. They had been in attendance at the funeral of the late Lachlin Smith.

Died Near Bethel.

John Hammons, who resided near Bethel church, died Thursday at midnight, aged 51 years. He leaves a wife, five sons and two daughters, all of whom reside at home.

The funeral services were conducted by Reverend Powell and Reverend Gray at 11 o'clock yesterday, and interment was at Highlandtown.

Brought Home a Bride.

W. H. Black went to Burgettstown the other day, and returned to surprise his friends with a bride. They have moved into a pleasant home in Main street.

A New Minister.

Rev. Homer Sheely filled the pulpit at the brick church in the Scotch settlement in the absence of the pastor, Rev. Calhoun, who preached in Liverpool.

Went to Cincinnati.

THE LAST SAD RITES

Over the Remains of the Late John Guttridge.

ELOQUENT WORDS OF CONDOLENCE

Were Given by Doctor Reager—Board of Trade and Masons Attended as Organizations—The Body Was Taken to Cleveland This Morning

Funeral services over the remains of John Guttridge, manager of the new rolling mill company, were conducted yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Dr. J. S. Reager officiated.

The opening anthem, a beautiful piece of music, was sung by the Methodist choir, and Dr. Reager delivered an eloquent address. He spoke of the kind, loving nature of the man whose body lay there, and recalled the fact that he had ever done his best. The words of cheer for the bereaved son and daughter were beautiful, and many persons were in tears when the reverend gentleman sat down.

At this point the Masons took charge of the service, Mr. Guttridge having been a member of Mt. Moriah lodge, of St. Louis. The beautiful ceremony was passed through in a most impressive manner, the many members feeling that they had indeed lost a brother, although they had not yet learned to know him well. The floral offerings were very beautiful, and there were very many of them. The basket of flowers sent by the board of trade was a magnificent specimen 52 by 34 inches. There were many other splendid offerings from among the many friends Mr. Guttridge had gathered about him during his brief residence in this place.

The board of trade and the Masons each attended the services as organizations, the former marching from city hall and the latter from their usual place of meeting. There were also a great many other persons present.

The body was taken this morning to Cleveland where it will be interred this afternoon. The funeral party was made up of the family and a number of close friends. The pallbearers were Philip White, John Reiber, S. D. Noragon, Tanner Snowden, James Stevenson and F. R. Martin.

Nothing has appeared to clear up the mystery surrounding the death of the unfortunate man, and even his closest friends have been unable to fathom the matter.

CAUGHT A BIG FISH

After a Hard Fight in the River at Walker.

Frank Fogo was fishing at Walker on Saturday and about 2 o'clock in the afternoon he caught a spoon fish of most unusual size for these waters. He brought it to town and it was found to weigh 21 pounds and the length was over three feet.

It was placed on exhibition in front of Wallace Fogo's restaurant and drew immense crowds of spectators, most of whom had never seen a fish of its size or variety. It was caught in a net and was still alive.

THEY WALKED HOME

After Missing the Last Car From Liverpool.

It is related that two well known young women of this place attended the opening of Rock Spring park Saturday night, but missed the last car home.

There was nothing for them to do but walk, and they set out on the long journey. Before they got home it began to rain, and as they were without protection they were thoroughly drenched.

Buried in Bellaire.

Old Mr. Peterson died yesterday at the residence of Joseph Irvin after a long illness. He was reared near Pugh town, Hancock county, and was well known to a great many people, having long been in the services of the railroad company.

Reverend McKee will conduct funeral services this evening at 7 o'clock, and the remains will be taken to Bellaire tomorrow for interment.

A Bicycle Accident.

Another slight accident with bicycles occurred on Broadway at the corner of Seventh street on Saturday about 2 o'clock. Miss Helen Bailey and Miss Bessie Parsons were riding together when Wilmer Blair and a companion attempted to cross a certain spot at about the same time. No one was hurt, but Miss Parsons' front wheel was wrecked.

DR. REAGER'S SERMON.

He Appealed to Council to Let the Closing Ordinance Alone.

At the First M. E. church yesterday Doctor Reager delivered a powerful sermon, his subject being "How splendid this record at the close of life." Among other good things he said:

"I am informed that an effort is to be made upon our city council to amend the closing ordinance, which now closes the saloons at 9 o'clock in the evening extending the time to 10 o'clock. I appeal to these, our representatives in the city government, not to do this. There can come no good to our fellow citizens by doing it. It is legislating in the interest of a very small class. We are a community of working people and need the hours of night for rest. Let there be no extra inducements offered for carousal; no man can carouse till 10 o'clock and do a full day's work the next day. The manufacturing interests of the town are somewhat protected by the present regulation and so are the homes. The quiet order on our streets after 9 o'clock is one of our best commendations. An extension of the closing ordinance can work nothing but ill to our little city. If you can add no further restrictions I beseech you, gentlemen of the council, not to disturb the status quo. If you do, the Christian sentiment will organize for reprisal by demanding the entire closing of the saloons. Fidelity in the Christian warfare is rewarded by divine approval, a conscience at peace with God and man, and the crown of life."

Methodist Protestant.

Rev. Stephenson preached from the text "He brought him to Jesus." He said:

"That was more than the greatest of inventions, the attainment of fame, or position, or culture, or wealth. It was the wonderful work of bringing a soul to the very source of life, life that is real and permanent."

"It was the reward that comes to those who are really in earnest. Andrew found Peter because he was deeply enough interested in him to seek him and keep it up till he found him. That was the most wonderful thing that Andrew ever did. True, he was a hunter for opportunities. He it was that found the boy with the loaves and fishes; he it was that found the Greeks that were seeking Jesus. He would know the time of final recompense. He did not, and could not bring Peter to Jesus until he had been to Him himself."

"You say that it is not a great thing to do, just to bring one soul to Christ. How many have done it? It was so great a thing that the record of it will never die."

First U. P. Church.

"Let all the people praise Thee" was Reverend Littell's sermon last evening.

"Salvation is for sinners," he said. "If you are not a sinner you do not need to look around for a sinner. We cannot ask a doctor to cure and also ask him to have our fever. Jesus came to ask sinners and not the righteous to repentance. I thank God I am a sinner, for then I am to be saved. We should not desire to be angels, but sinners and saved. Hope is grounded on the fact that I believe there is a way provided for salvation. He has given us this Bible, the most beautiful book in the universe. It has come down to us through flood and fire and blood. God has preserved it in a multitude of ways. We can surely believe the plan of salvation. All hope is founded on the fact that Jesus as intercessor gives us the pledge, he will do for us what we ask in his name."

The sermon was one of the best Reverend Littell ever delivered in Wellsville.

Disfigured For Life.

Mrs. S. G. Foley, who was injured at her home Saturday afternoon, it has been found is badly hurt.

She had placed a quantity of rice in a lard can on the stove, and when she returned found that the lid had become fastened. She pried it loose with a knife, and instantly there was an explosion. The boiling rice was blown into her face, causing wounds that will probably disfigure her for life.

A Ball Game.

There will be a base ball game on the ball ground Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, between the Wellsville team and East Liverpool Hilltops. Lineup is as follows: Catcher, Booth; pitcher, Heakin; short, Hamilton; first, Davis; second, Patterson; third, Joblin; left, McGarren; center, Grafton; right, Elkins.

HELPING THE SOLDIERS

Railroad Men Getting Out Cars For the Rush.

MANY OLD ONES IN SERVICE

Wellsville Has Contributed Its Share. There Is a Movement All Along the Line as the Pennsylvania Company Is Doing an Enormous Business.

To the present Wellsville has not sent many men to the war, but it is doing something to help along the cause.

Orders were received on Saturday to get all the cars possible in condition for use at once as they would be needed for the transportation of soldiers. Wellsville will contribute its share and can thus lend a helping hand.

The movement is general all along the line and along other divisions for the cars are badly needed to transport soldiers. The Pennsylvania company has secured some of the heaviest contracts, and thousands of men are being sent over some part of the system every day. There have been no wrecks, and local railroad men are very proud of the record.

SHOT HIMSELF

While Removing Cartridges From a Revolver.

Soon after noon yesterday James Roberts, who had gone out by himself for a stroll, in attempting to remove the cartridges from a 32 self acting revolver, accidentally shot himself.

The ball passed through the two middle fingers of his right hand and down into his right leg half way between the knee and thigh, and lodged there. At the time the accident occurred he was in Bunting hollow, near the Lyth works, and entirely alone.

He started for the street car line and reached his home in the rear of Third street. His mother was away at the time, and young Roberts waited her arrival before sending for a doctor. At last Doctor Hutcheson was sent for and dressed the wounded fingers. He probed for the ball and succeeded in extracting it.

This morning he is resting as comfortably as possible under the circumstances. The doctor does not anticipate any serious results.

Roberts is about 17 years of age and has been employed with William H. Sheckler, the junk dealer, in Third street.

Personal.

Miss Jennie Hague is visiting her aunt, Mrs. J. H. Atkinson, at New Cumberland, W. Va.

Miss Jennie Denham, who has been attending a United Presbyterian convention at Cleveland, returned Saturday evening.

Daniel Smith and wife and William Flahaven and two daughters, returned to their home Saturday evening. They had been in attendance at the funeral of the late Lachlin Smith.

Died Near Bethel.

John Hammons, who resided near Bethel church, died Thursday at midnight, aged 51 years. He leaves a wife, five sons and two daughters, all of whom reside at home.

The funeral services were conducted by Reverend Powell and Reverend Gray at 11 o'clock yesterday, and interment was at Highlandtown.

Brought Home a Bride.

W. H. Black went to Burgettstown the other day, and returned to surprise his friends with a bride. They have moved into a pleasant home in Main street.

THE FUTURE OF CUBA

SENTIMENT OF CUBANS IS IN FAVOR OF ANNEXATION.

Gratitude For Past Friendship and Business Considerations Point One Way In Their Minds—The Meaning of the Single Star—Cuban Views Regarding Hawaii.

The future of Cuba is already engaging the serious attention of the enlightened Cubans both on the island and in the United States—not the immediate future, as that is already regarded as certain to involve the end of Spanish misrule, but the years to come. Tampa is at present an excellent place to sound the feeling of Cubans on this subject. There are gathered there not only those who have lived in this country for some time and are most pronounced in their sympathy with it, but leaders who have fought until recently and have had few dealings with the people of the United States. Of course there is no unanimity of sentiment, but so far as can be judged the weight of opinion is that Cuba will be added to the land that is to make her free. The terms of the resolution which empowered President McKinley to intervene in the struggle are not overlooked in making forecasts, nor do the Cubans who have been long in the United States disregard the widespread and deeply rooted feeling against territorial expansion. Their belief is that in time, and in no very long time, either, annexation will come.

First to be considered is the attitude of Cuba herself. Undoubtedly when order is established there will be ambitious generals who will seek civil preferment and will strive for a permanent republic. Cubans here, however, who consider themselves good judges of the sentiment of their countrymen believe that the greater part of them will desire no such thing. The experience of South and Central American countries makes it likely that revolutions will be periodical in the independent country. The mercantile classes will especially desire the stability that control from Washington would secure. Of course, to producers of sugar and tobacco the uplifting of the United States tariff would be of incalculable value. All trade conditions would be better under the larger and stronger government.

There are also strong sentimental reasons in favor of annexation. The United States has long been the hope of Cuban patriots, and from here has come nearly all the aid contributed from outside the island to the various revolutions. In the three years' struggle this help has been all important, even while the government sought most strenuously to frustrate it. Finally, the present intervention, involving as it does the massing of great fleets and armies, will naturally awaken the strongest feelings of gratitude. The inevitable success of the United States in the war with Spain will give her an additional prestige among the nations of the world, which will make citizenship in her a possession of pride to nearly every Cuban. As a republic Cuba would merely be classed with a dozen other countries of the new world. As one of the United States her sons would feel part of one of the most powerful lands of the world. This sentiment is one that appeals particularly to the Cuban mind.

Historically there is a trend toward annexation that is interesting. It began half a century ago, before Lopez landed his first expedition in Cuba. At that time he adopted the single star as the standard of Cuba in token of his ambition to have it transferred to the field of the United States flag. This star he placed not in a sky of blue, as heraldic convention would dictate, but in one red, to signify the blood out of which it should rise. He was right enough in his prediction. A Massachusetts woman made the first Cuban flag, and it was carried by Lopez on his expedition. This venture proved a failure, and so did his next one, but the flag is soon to float over Cuba's capital. The single star, as the type of annexation, is for more than the mere idea of Lopez. It was adopted in the beginning of the three years' war after a discussion of several days in which its significance was made entirely clear. Certainly this is important evidence that the hope of the adventurer Lopez is shared by a great body of the Cubans of today.

All this is how the patriotic colony in Tampa seems to view the situation. Of course it will take the consent of the other party to secure annexation. On this score Cubans are as confident as they are of the feeling of their own countrymen. They regard the admission of Hawaii as certain, since the developments of the last few days. What better precedent could be desired for the annexation of their own island, they ask. Some think that for a certain period Cuba will retain her separate existence. After a few years, if she makes the advances, the United States can take her in without stultifying herself, Cubans say, in spite of the final paragraph of the congress resolutions.—New York Tribune.

Had His Troubles.

Seedy Individual—Can't you give a dime to a poor, homeless wanderer? Well Dressed Individual—No home? Why, man, you're in luck! I've got a bill in my pocket for $200 taxes on mine six months overdue that I can't pay.—Somerville (Mass.) Journal.

STARVATION AND DEATH IN THE ISLAND OF CUBA.

Captured Fishermen Say Food Is Scarce and the Reconcentrados Are Rapidly Dying Off.

KEY WEST, May 16.—The conditions in Havana, resulting from the blockade, are being gradually brought out by information obtained from fishing smacks and other small vessels captured off the coast, by the blockading vessels.

Affairs at Havana now appear to be worse than at any time since the Weyler regime. The fishermen, who at first braved the blockade for the high price fish brought in Havana, now run the risk not for money, but for the food which they obtain from the sea.

The Machias caught two fishing boats off Havana just before her return here. The American offered the fishermen money for part of their catches, the fish was needed on board. But the fishermen demurred at taking money, they preferred to have bread and adding that they were desperately hungry.

When questioned as to the prevalence of yellow fever at Havana, the fisherman said there was little sickness at the Cuban capital, but they added there was much starvation. The reconcentrados, they said, are nearly all dead or have been expelled from the city to die in the suburbs. This agrees with other reports from Havana and Matanzas, to the effect that the Spanish authorities, on the departure of the American consul, seized all the relief supplies and applied them to the uses of the army. The Spaniards then drove the reconcentrados into the desolated sections of the country, between the coast towns and the insurgent lines, the regions described by Senator Proctor and others as being too barren and desolate to support grasshoppers. The insurgents themselves have been chary of receiving reconcentrados and hundreds of the latter who had no personal friends in the insurgent camps had been left to starve between the lines, which they did.

About Havana the situation is even worse. Hundreds of reconcentrados from Los Posas, the big reconcentrado barracks in Havana, were too weak to walk out of town and fell in the streets or died in the suburbs, where flocks of vultures, "Weyler's chickens," as they are now termed in Havana, have feasted on the remains.

In Matanzas this feature of the situation is equally distressing. The fishermen say that if the blockade continues much longer bread riots must follow in all the large towns, as food is reserved exclusively for the army, thus forcing many people to enlist who would not otherwise do so.

Finally the fishermen say that certain of the most desperate of the Spaniards threaten to burn Havana or blow the city up in the event of the authorities deciding to capitulate to the American forces.

TO SAVE SOLDIERS' SOULS.

General Howard, Major Whipple and D. L. Moody Interested In Evangelization Among the Boys.

TAMPA, Fla., May 16.—When the United States troops at Tampa embark for Cuba they may be followed soon after by some of the famous evangelists in the United States.

General O. O. Howard, U. S. A., retired, now an evangelist, has arrived at Tampa, accompanied by Major D. W. Whipple.

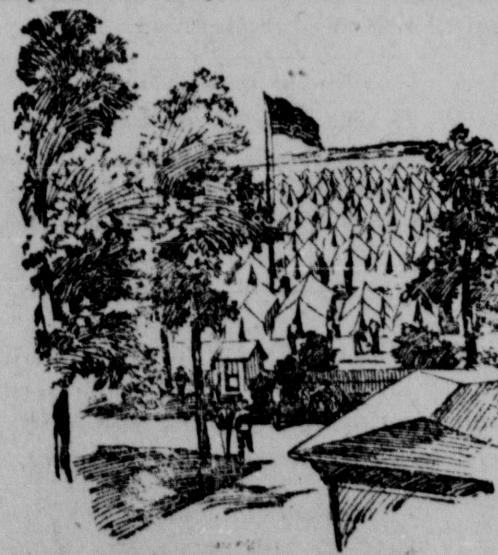

A movement was recently inaugurated by D. L. Moody having for its object the sending of noted speakers to the various rendezvous of the soldiers and to hold meetings for their spiritual instruction. General Howard and Major Whipple have visited Chickamauga, Atlanta and Mobile. Sending to Cuba of several noted divines to work among the soldiers is contemplated.

General Howard and Major Whipple spoke at the Tampa Heights camp grounds last night.

READY TO MOVE ON CUBA.

About 14,000 Troops In Camp at Tampa. Transports Inadequate.

TAMPA, Fla., May 16.—Two regiments of infantry, the Eighth and Twelfth, have arrived from Chickamauga. These two regiments make a total of 19 regiments, 16 of infantry and three of cavalry now in camp for the move on Cuba.

CAMP TAMPA.

With the engineer and signal corps there are about 14,000 troops of the United States army now here.

At the outside not more than 8,000 troops and 2,000 horses and mules could be loaded on the ten transports gathered here. That force, however, could be sent away on very short notice, as all supplies have been put on board and everything made ready for a hurried embarkation.

Spanish Trick That Failed.

KEY WEST, May 16.—A war vessel,

believed to be the Alphonso XII, and a Spanish gunboat steamed out of Havana harbor Saturday evidently bound for sea. Vessels of the blockading fleet started after them, when they ran into Havana harbor. The United States vessels followed, when they drew off, realizing it was a trick to get them into range of the batteries, which did fire but failed to hit. A shell from one of the fleet struck the rigging of the Alphonso XII.

GUSSIE EXPEDITION FAILED.

The Spaniards Evidently Too Active to Allow the Insurgents to Connect.

KEY WEST, May 16.—The steamer Gussie has returned here after an unsuccessful attempt to land a consignment of rifles in Cuba, intended for the use of the insurgents. Her commander, who appeared to be much crestfallen at his failure to accomplish the mission entrusted to him, refused to discuss the matter, beyond admitting his failure and saying the Gussie will return to Tampa, Fla. Captain Dorst, U. S. A., said it was due to the failure of the insurgents to connect, evidently owing to the activity of the Spanish.

Previous to leaving Cuban waters, the Dorst expeditionary force had a skirmish with Spanish cavalry near Cabanas, already noted in these dispatches. Later Captain Dorst abandoned the attempt at that point and steamed eastward to Matanzas. When about two miles off shore, when the rattle of musketry from a considerable force of Spanish soldiers concealed behind underbrush ashore, warned them not to try it.

CAPE HAITIEN, Republic of Haiti, May 16.—The United States storeship Supply is still here under waiting orders.

It is expected that this point may be used as the base of supplies for the fleet.

Wounded Seaman Dies.

KEY WEST, May 16.—Ernest Sautzenreh, one of the American seamen wounded at Cienfuegos, has died at the marine hospital here and was buried.

NOT LIKED BY SPAIN.

The Prospect of an Anglo-American Alliance Being Considered.

MADRID, May 16.—Spain is not pleased with the utterances on the subject of the possibility of an alliance between the United States and Great Britain.

The Spanish ambassador at London, Count Rascon, telegraphed an extract of the recent speech of Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, the British secretary of state for the colonies, at Birmingham on Friday evening last to Senor Guillon, the minister for foreign affairs. The Spanish ministers were to discuss it at their meeting today.

Spain, it is said upon good authority, will draw the attention of the powers to the transcendence of the suggested Anglo-American alliance with respect to European interests.

The Spanish newspapers and the politicians here of all classes discuss Mr. Chamberlain's speech most angrily. They consider it to be a sequel to the Marquis of Salisbury's warnings to Spain, whose dominions, it seems, are to be absorbed by strong enemies.

THE FUTURE OF CUBA

SENTIMENT OF CUBANS IS IN FAVOR OF ANNEXATION.

Gratitude For Past Friendship and Business Considerations Point One Way In Their Minds—The Meaning of the Single Star—Cuban Views Regarding Hawaii.

The future of Cuba is already engaging the serious attention of the enlightened Cubans both on the island and in the United States—not the immediate future, as that is already regarded as certain to involve the end of Spanish misrule, but the years to come. Tampa is at present an excellent place to sound the feeling of Cubans on this subject. There are gathered there not only those who have lived in this country for some time and are most pronounced in their sympathy with it, but leaders who have fought until recently and have had few dealings with the people of the United States. Of course there is no unanimity of sentiment, but so far as can be judged the weight of opinion is that Cuba will be added to the land that is to make her free. The terms of the resolution which empowered President McKinley to intervene in the struggle are not overlooked in making forecasts, nor do the Cubans who have been long in the United States disregard the widespread and deeply rooted feeling against territorial expansion. Their belief is that in time, and in no very long time, either, annexation will come.

First to be considered is the attitude of Cuba herself. Undoubtedly when order is established there will be ambitious generals who will seek civil preferment and will strive for a permanent republic. Cubans here, however, who consider themselves good judges of the sentiment of their countrymen believe that the greater part of them will desire no such thing. The experience of South and Central American countries makes it likely that revolutions will be periodic in the independent country. The mercantile classes will especially desire the stability that control from Washington would secure. Of course, to producers of sugar and tobacco the uplifting of the United States tariff would be of incalculable value. All trade conditions would be better under the larger and stronger government.

There are also strong sentimental reasons in favor of annexation. The United States has long been the hope of Cuban patriots, and from here has come nearly all the aid contributed from outside the island to the various revolutions. In the three years' struggle this help has been all important, even while the government sought most strenuously to frustrate it. Finally, the present intervention, involving as it does the massing of great fleets and armies, will naturally awaken the strongest feelings of gratitude. The inevitable success of the United States in the war with Spain will give her an additional prestige among the nations of the world, which will make citizenship in her a possession of pride to nearly every Cuban. As a republic Cuba would merely be classed with a dozen other countries of the new world. As one of the United States her sons would feel part of one of the most powerful lands of the world. This sentiment is one that appeals particularly to the Cuban mind.

Historically there is a trend toward annexation that is interesting. It began half a century ago, before Lopez landed his first expedition in Cuba. At that time he adopted the single star as the standard of Cuba in token of his ambition to have it transferred to the field of the United States flag. This star he placed not in a sky of blue, as heraldic convention would dictate, but in one red, to signify the blood out of which it should rise. He was right enough in his prediction. A Massachusetts woman made the first Cuban flag, and it was carried by Lopez on his expedition. This venture proved a failure, and so did his next one, but the flag is soon to float over Cuba's capital. The single star, as the type of annexation, is for more than the mere idea of Lopez. It was adopted in the beginning of the three years' war after a discussion of several days in which its significance was made entirely clear. Certainly this is important evidence that the hope of the adventurer Lopez is shared by a great body of the Cubans of today.

All this is how the patriotic colony in Tampa seems to view the situation. Of course it will take the consent of the other party to secure annexation. On this score Cubans are as confident as they are of the feeling of their own countrymen. They regard the admission of Hawaii as certain, since the developments of the last few days. What better precedent could be desired for the annexation of their own island, they ask. Some think that for a certain period Cuba will retain her separate existence. After a few years, if she makes the advances, the United States can take her in without stultifying herself, Cubans say, in spite of the final paragraph of the congress resolutions.—New York Tribune.

HUNGER AND DEATH IN THE ISLAND OF CUBA.

Captured Fishermen Say Food Is Scarce and the Reconcentrados Are Rapidly Dying On.

KEY WEST, May 16.—The conditions in Havana, resulting from the blockade, are being gradually brought out by information obtained from fishing smacks and other small vessels captured off the coast, by the blockading vessels.

Affairs at Havana now appear to be worse than at any time since the Weyler regime. The fishermen, who at first braved the blockade for the high price fish brought in Havana, now run the risk not for money, but for the food which they obtain from the sea.

The Machias caught two fishing boats off Havana just before her return here. The American offered the fishermen money for part of their catches, the fish was needed on board. But the fishermen demurred at taking money, they preferred to have bread and adding that they were desperately hungry.

When questioned as to the prevalence of yellow fever at Havana, the fisherman said there was little sickness at the Cuban capital, but they added there was much starvation. The reconcentrados, they said, are nearly all dead or have been expelled from the city to die in the suburbs. This agrees with other reports from Havana and Matanzas, to the effect that the Spanish authorities, on the departure of the American consul, seized all the relief supplies and applied them to the uses of the army. The Spaniards then drove the reconcentrados into the desolated sections of the country, between the coast towns and the insurgent lines, the regions described by Senator Proctor and others as being too barren and desolate to support grasshoppers. The insurgents themselves have been chary of receiving reconcentrados and hundreds of the latter who had no personal friends in the insurgent camps had been left to starve between the lines, which they did.

About Havana the situation is even worse. Hundreds of reconcentrados from Los Fosos, the big reconcentrado barracks in Havana, were too weak to walk out of town and fell in the streets or died in the suburbs, where flocks of vultures, "Weyler's chickens," as they are now termed in Havana, have feasted on the remains.

In Matanzas this feature of the situation is equally distressing.

The fishermen say that if the blockade continues much longer bread riots must follow in all the large towns, as food is reserved exclusively for the army, thus forcing many people to enlist who would not otherwise do so.

Finally the fishermen say that certain of the most desperate of the Spaniards threaten to burn Havana or blow the city up in the event of the authorities deciding to capitulate to the American forces.

TO SAVE SOLDIERS' SOULS.

General Howard, Major Whipple and D. L. Moody Interested In Evangelization Among the Boys.

TAMPA, Fla., May 16.—When the United States troops at Tampa embark for Cuba they may be followed soon after by some of the famous evangelists in the United States.

General O. O. Howard, U. S. A., retired, now an evangelist, has arrived at Tampa, accompanied by Major D. W. Whipple.

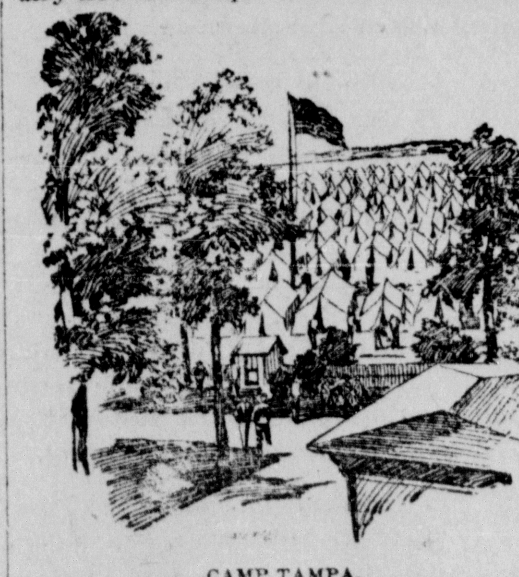

A movement was recently inaugurated by D. L. Moody having for its object the sending of noted speakers to the various rendezvous of the soldiers and to hold meetings for their spiritual instruction. General Howard and Major Whipple have visited Chickamauga, Atlanta and Mobile. Sending to Cuba of several noted divines to work among the soldiers is contemplated.

General Howard and Major Whipple spoke at the Tampa Heights camp grounds last night.

READY TO MOVE ON CUBA.

About 14,000 Troops In Camp at Tampa. Transports Inadequate.

TAMPA, Fla., May 16.—Two regiments of infantry, the Eighth and Twelfth, have arrived from Chickamauga. These two regiments make a total of 19 regiments, 16 of infantry and three of cavalry now in camp for the move on Cuba.

CAMP TAMPA.

With the engineer and signal corps there are about 14,000 troops of the United States army now here.

At the outside not more than 8,000 troops and 2,000 horses and mules could be loaded on the ten transports gathered here. That force, however, could be sent away on very short notice, as all supplies have been put on board and everything made ready for a hurried embarkation.

Spanish Trick That Failed.

KEY WEST, May 16.—A war vessel,

believed to be the Alphonso XII, and a Spanish gunboat steamed out of Havana harbor Saturday evidently bound for sea. Vessels of the blockading fleet started after them, when they ran into Havana harbor. The United States vessels followed, when they drew off, realizing it was a trick to get them into range of the batteries, which did fire but failed to hit. A shell from one of the fleet struck the rigging of the Alphonso XII.

GUSSIE EXPEDITION FAILED.

The Spaniards Evidently Too Active to Allow the Insurgents to Connect.

KEY WEST, May 16.—The steamer Gussie has returned here after an unsuccessful attempt to land a consignment of rifles in Cuba, intended for the use of the insurgents. Her commander, who appeared to be much crestfallen at his failure to accomplish the mission entrusted to him, refused to discuss the matter, beyond admitting his failure and saying the Gussie will return to Tampa, Fla. Captain Dorst, U. S. A., said it was due to the failure of the insurgents to connect, evidently owing to the activity of the Spanish.

Previous to leaving Cuban waters, the Dorst expeditionary force had a skirmish with Spanish cavalry near Cabanas, already noted in these dispatches. Later Captain Dorst abandoned the attempt at that point and steamed eastward to Matanzas. When about two miles off shore, when the rattle of musketry from a considerable force of Spanish soldiers concealed behind underbrush ashore, warned them not to try it.

CAPE HAITIEN, Republic of Haiti, May 16.—The United States storeship Supply is still here under waiting orders.

It is expected that this point may be used as the base of supplies for the fleet.

Wounded Seaman Dies.

KEY WEST, May 16.—Ernest Sautzenreh, one of the American seamen wounded at Cienfuegos, has died at the marine hospital here and was buried.

NOT LIKED BY SPAIN.

The Prospect of an Anglo-American Alliance Being Considered.

MADRID, May 16.—Spain is not pleased with the utterances on the subject of the possibility of an alliance between the United States and Great Britain.

The Spanish ambassador at London, Count Rascon, telegraphed an extract of the recent speech of Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, the British secretary of state for the colonies, at Birmingham on Friday evening last to Senor Gullon, the minister for foreign affairs. The Spanish ministers were to discuss it at their meeting today.

Spain, it is said upon good authority, will draw the attention of the powers to the transcendence of the suggested Anglo-American alliance with respect to European interests.

The Spanish newspapers and the politicians here of all classes discuss Mr. Chamberlain's speech most angrily. They consider it to be a sequel to the Marquis of Salisbury's warnings to Spain, whose dominions, it seems, are to be absorbed by strong enemies.
